— capturing the expressions of a school

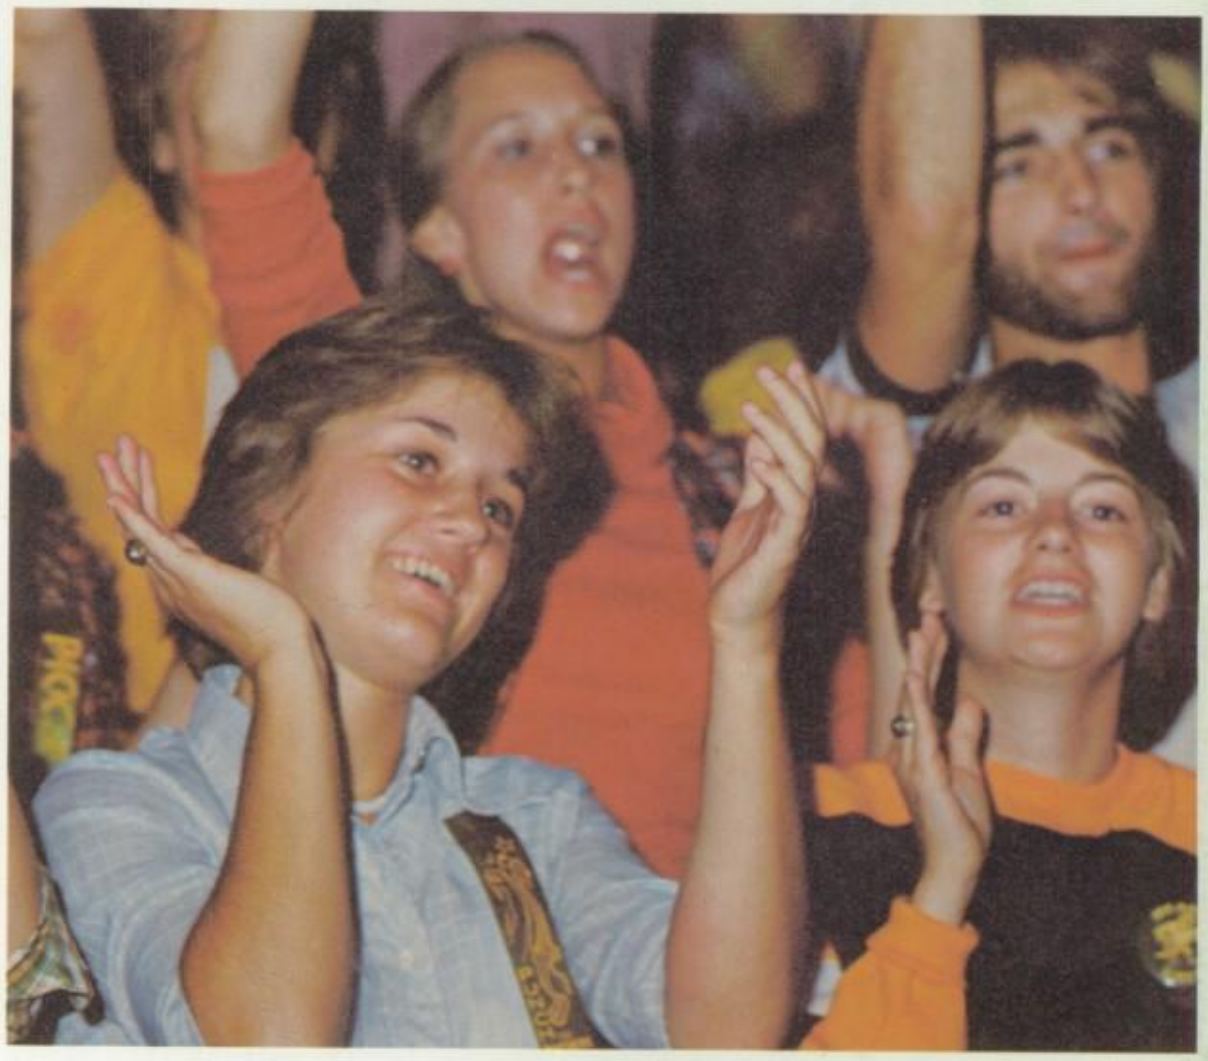
The Aquila
Volume XV
Ben L. Smith Senior High School
Greensboro, North Carolina

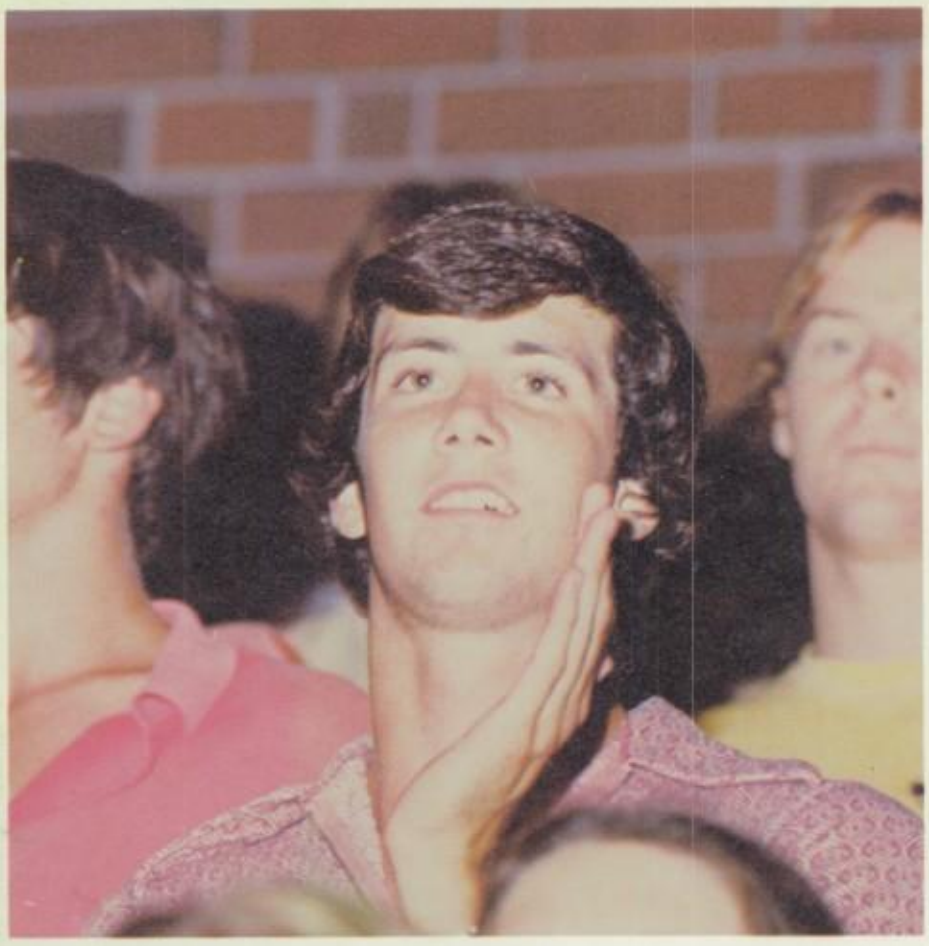
We here at Smith have many ways of expressing ourselves. We have different ways of showing the world who we are. Self-expression is an art in any form, whether it is through sports, music, academics or communication with friends or faculty.

Pep rallies provide an outlet for demonstrating school spirit, and here, too, the expressions are varied . . .

"Mean-Green buttons, bumper stickers, spirit ribbons — all are aids to school spirit, but when I see that small handful of fans at a losing football game, I know what school spirit is all about. The genuine pride and devotion for the school overcomes all silly stuff. It's a shame that most people have the most school spirit at the end of the year around graduation."

Julie Watkins





"To me, School Spirit is a feeling shared by all of Smith's students. I feel that Smith's people have a more mature attitude about their school. The spirit that we all share is concern for our fellow students, pride in our collective efforts and anything that highlights the friendliness and openness of our school."

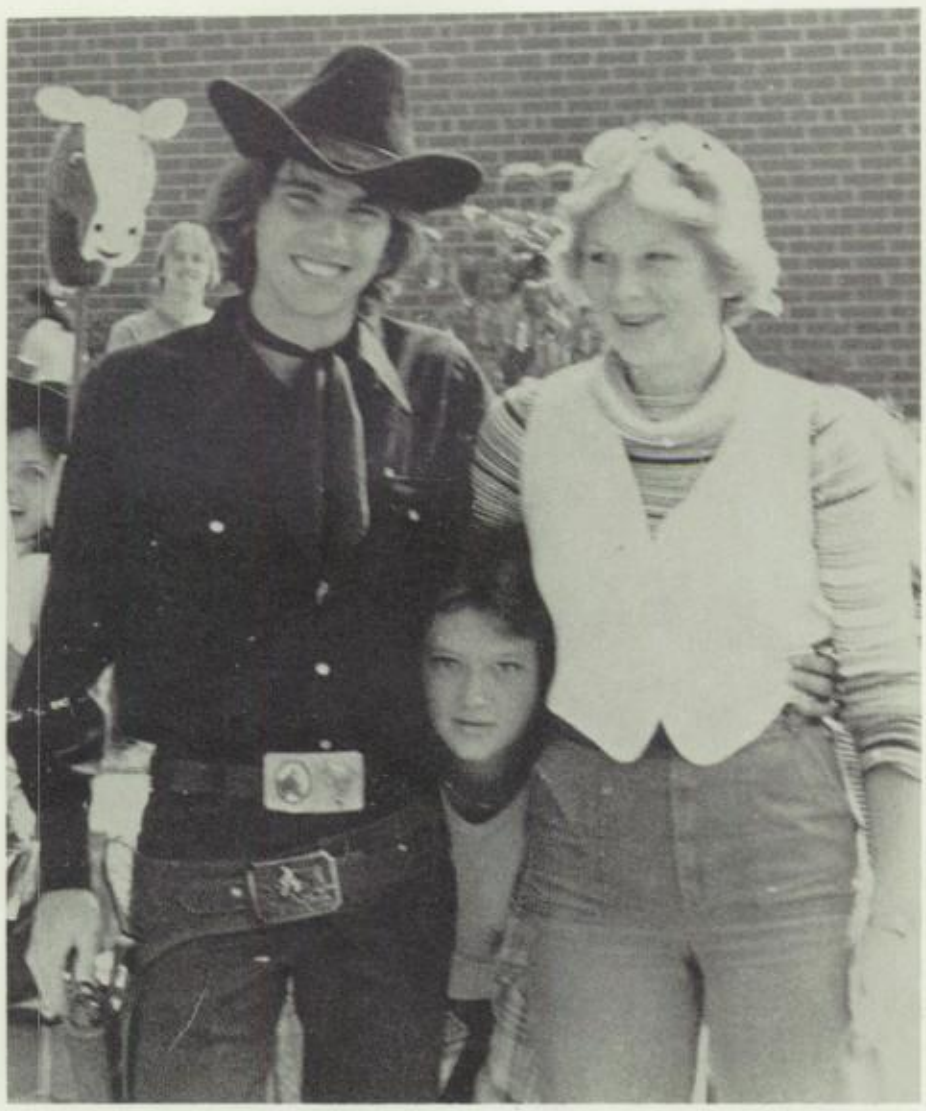
Henri Tripp

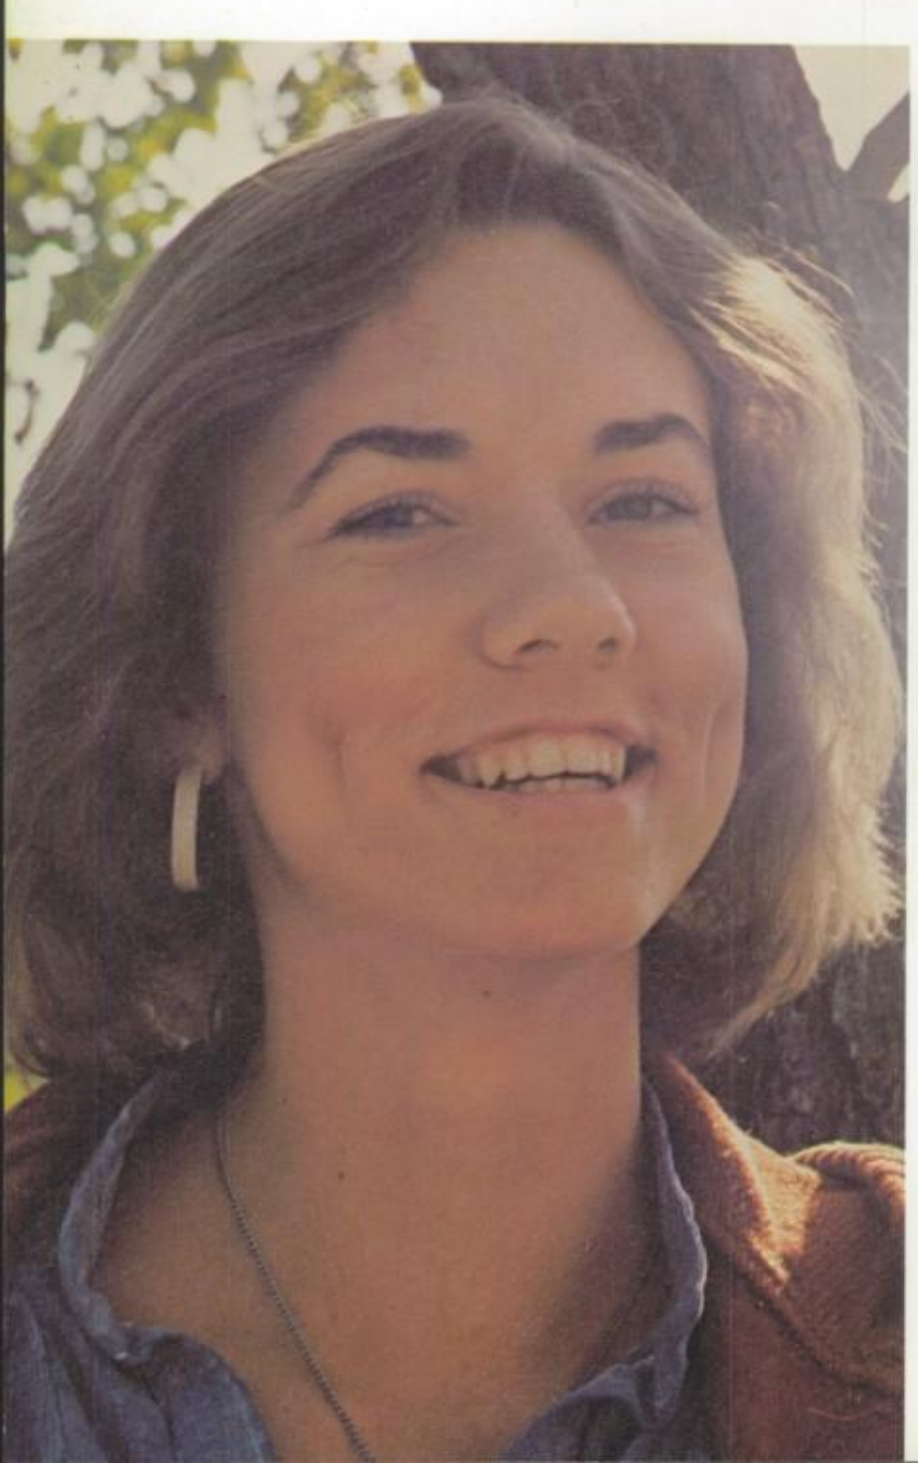
"When on our set aside spirit days we see no one dressed normal and the wall tacked with game posters; when everyone's car is filled with green and gold streamers; these things together make up school spirit."

Carol McLamb

"To me, school spirit is yelling and screaming at games and pep rallies. But it's more than that. Whenever we lose a game, the feeling in the stands of total despair and when we win, the feeling of wild excitement are parts of school spirit. You were out on the field, making touchdowns or fumbling, on the court dunking baskets or throwing the ball away. That's school spirit. The participation."

Marla Walters

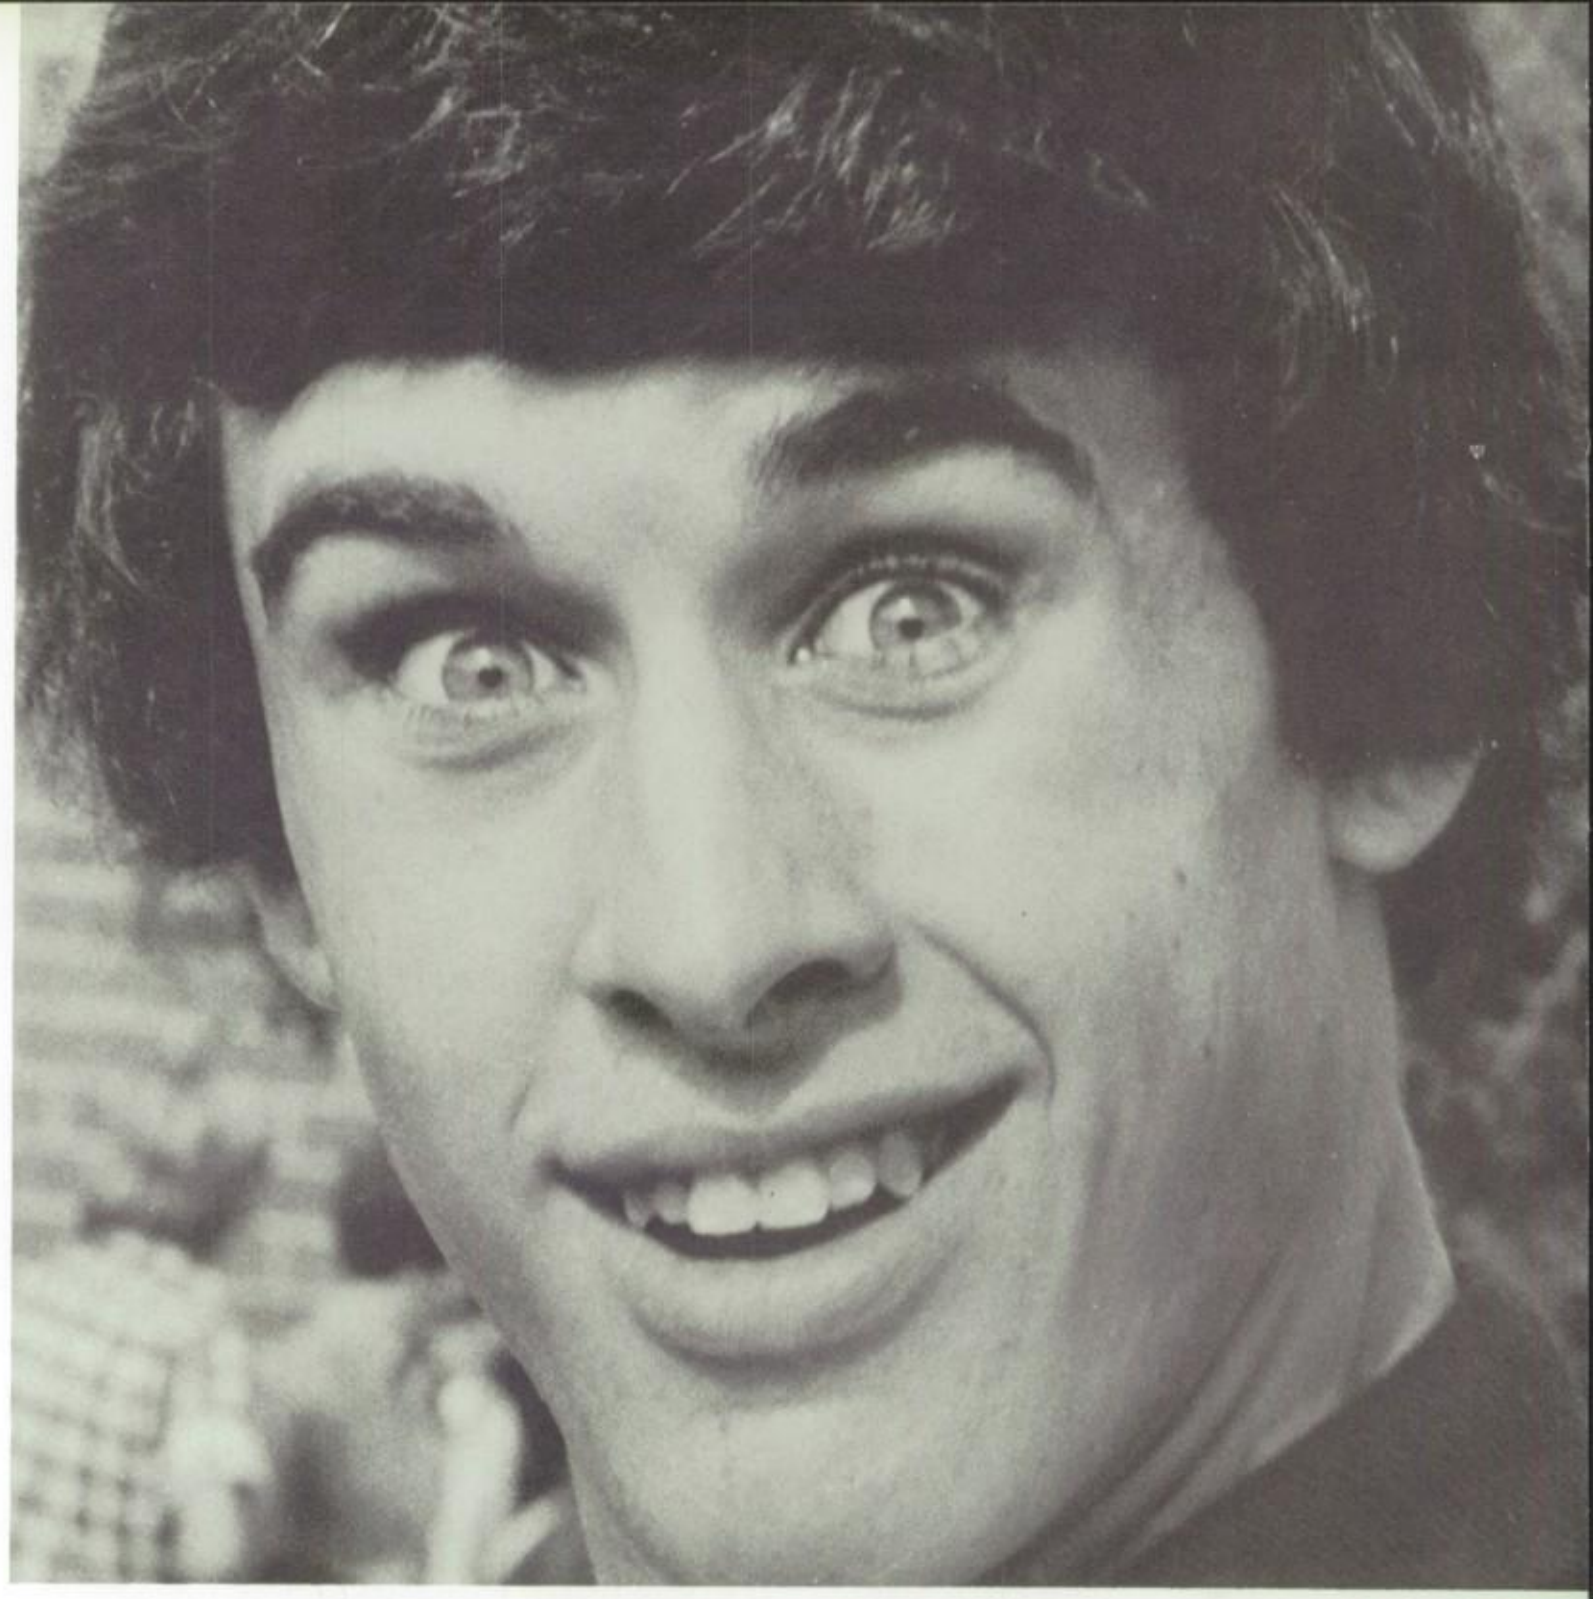


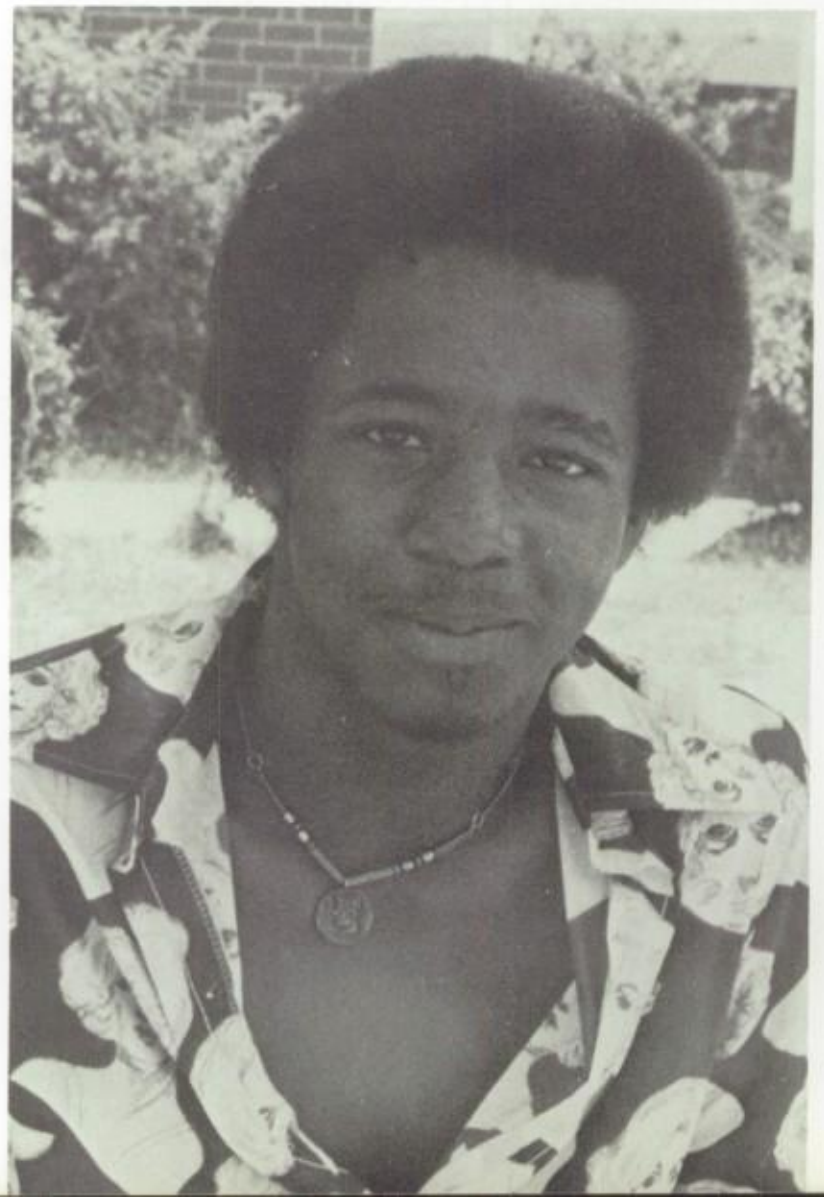


Our faces mirror the joy, hope, puzzlement, disappointment, sometimes despair that is us.

"It is the common wonder of all men, how among so many millions of faces there should be none alike."

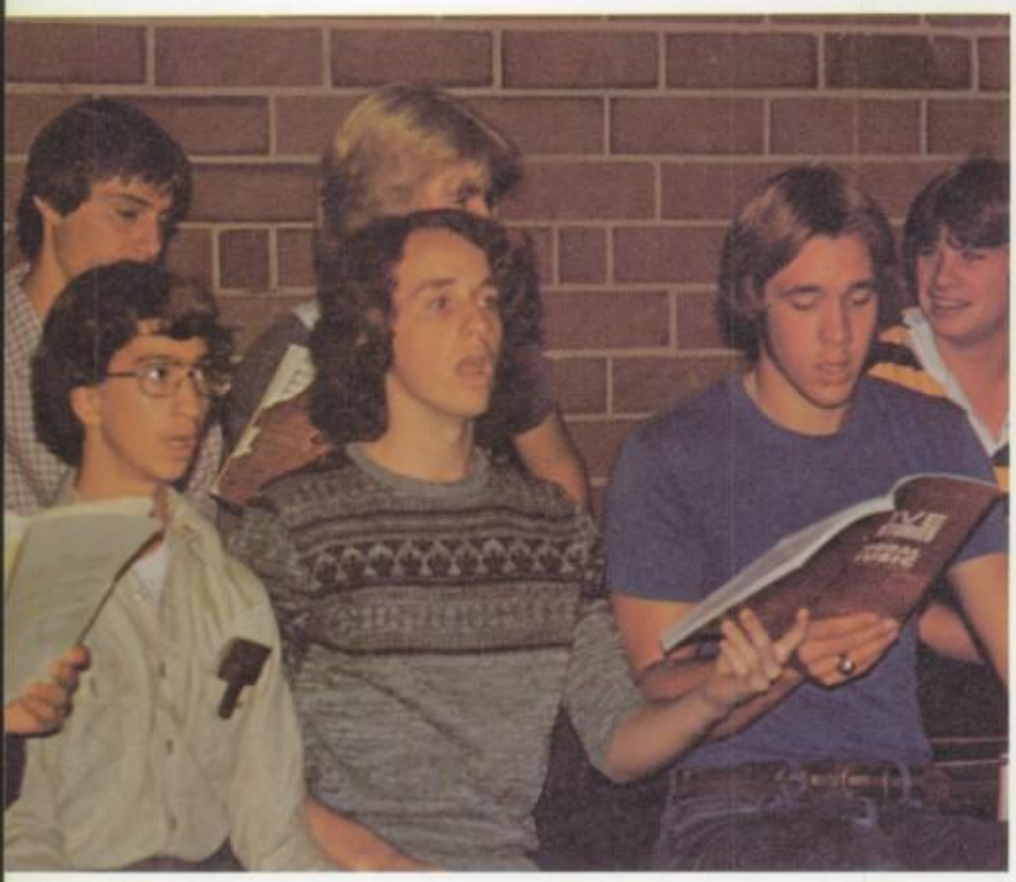
Sir Thomas Browne

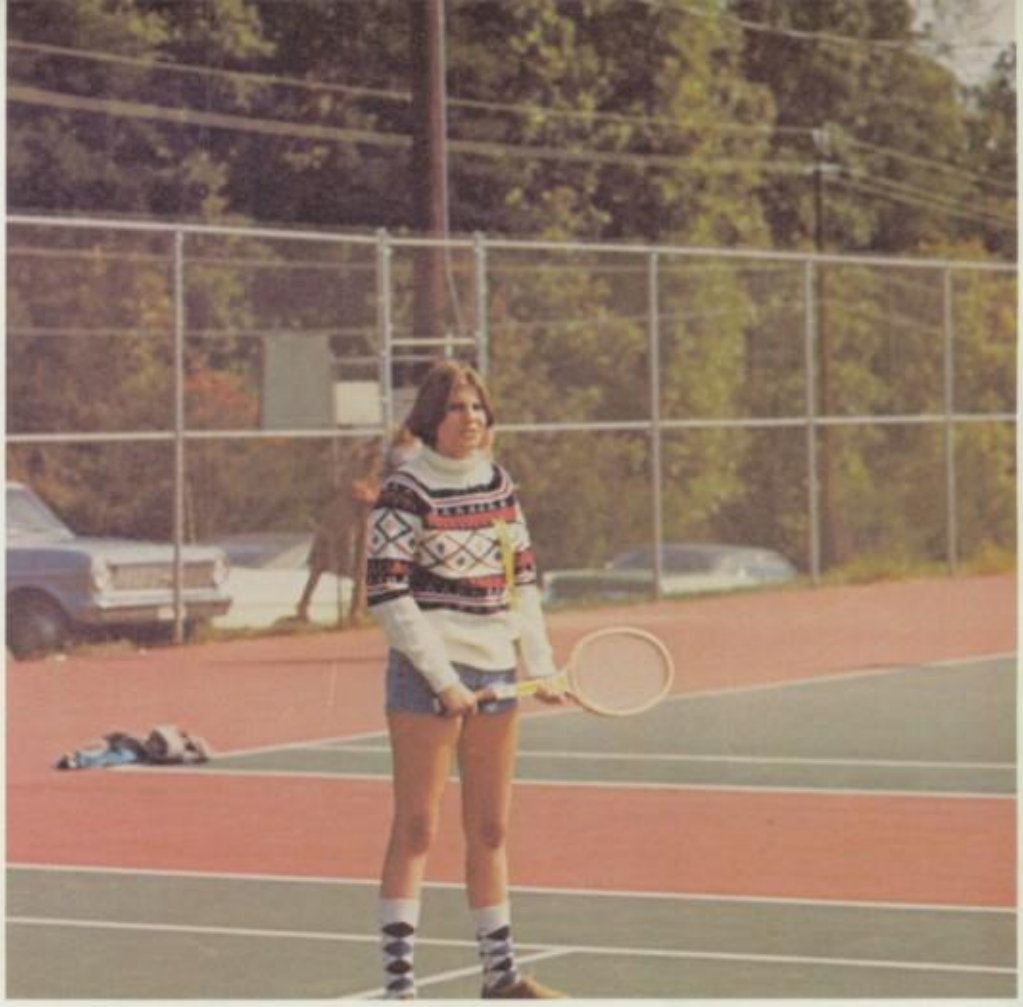


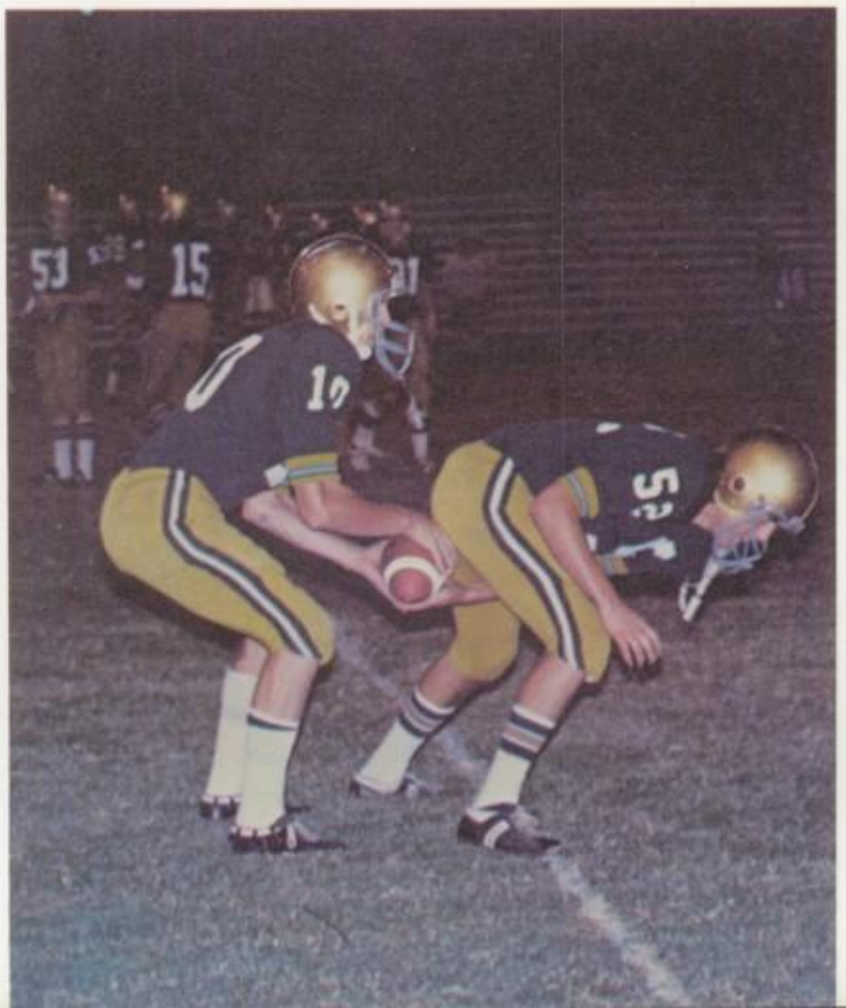


"A face that had a story to tell. How different faces are in this particular! Some of them speak not. They are books in which not a line is written, save perhaps a date."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

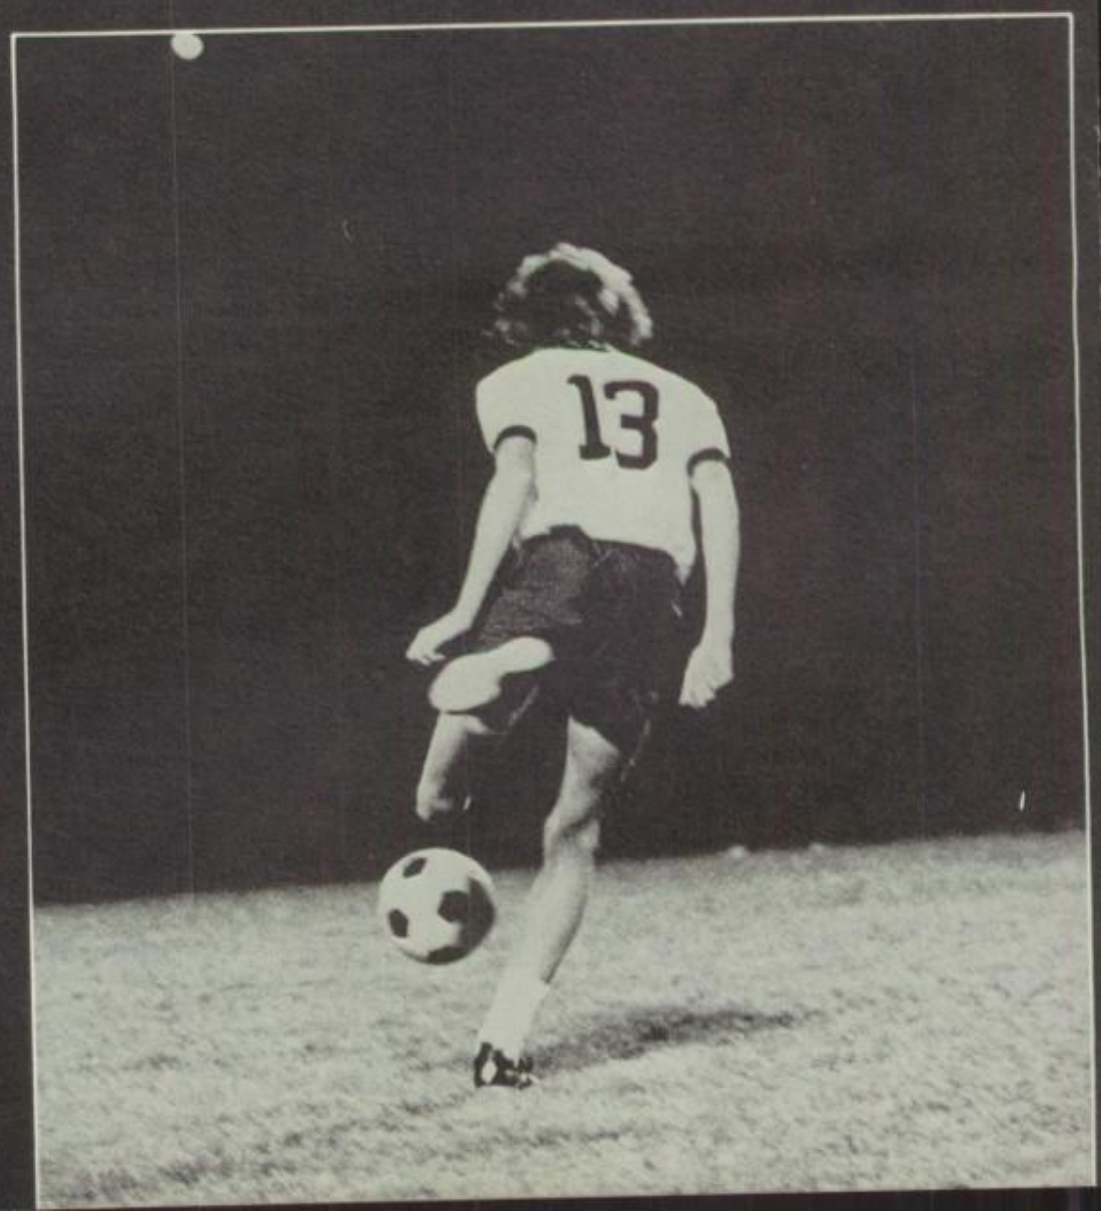


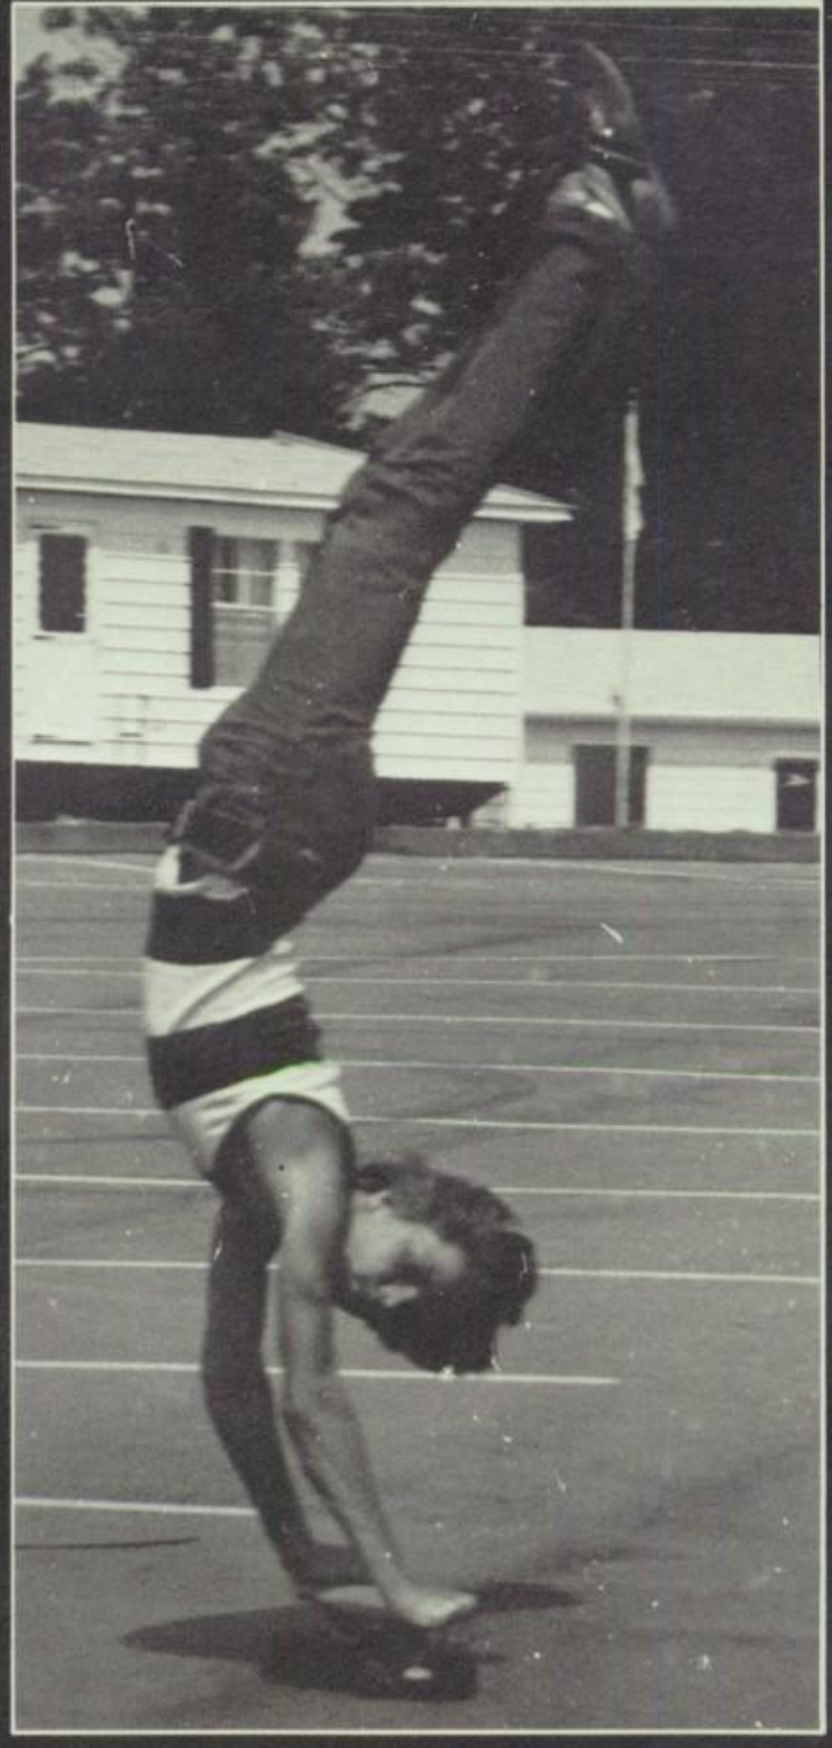


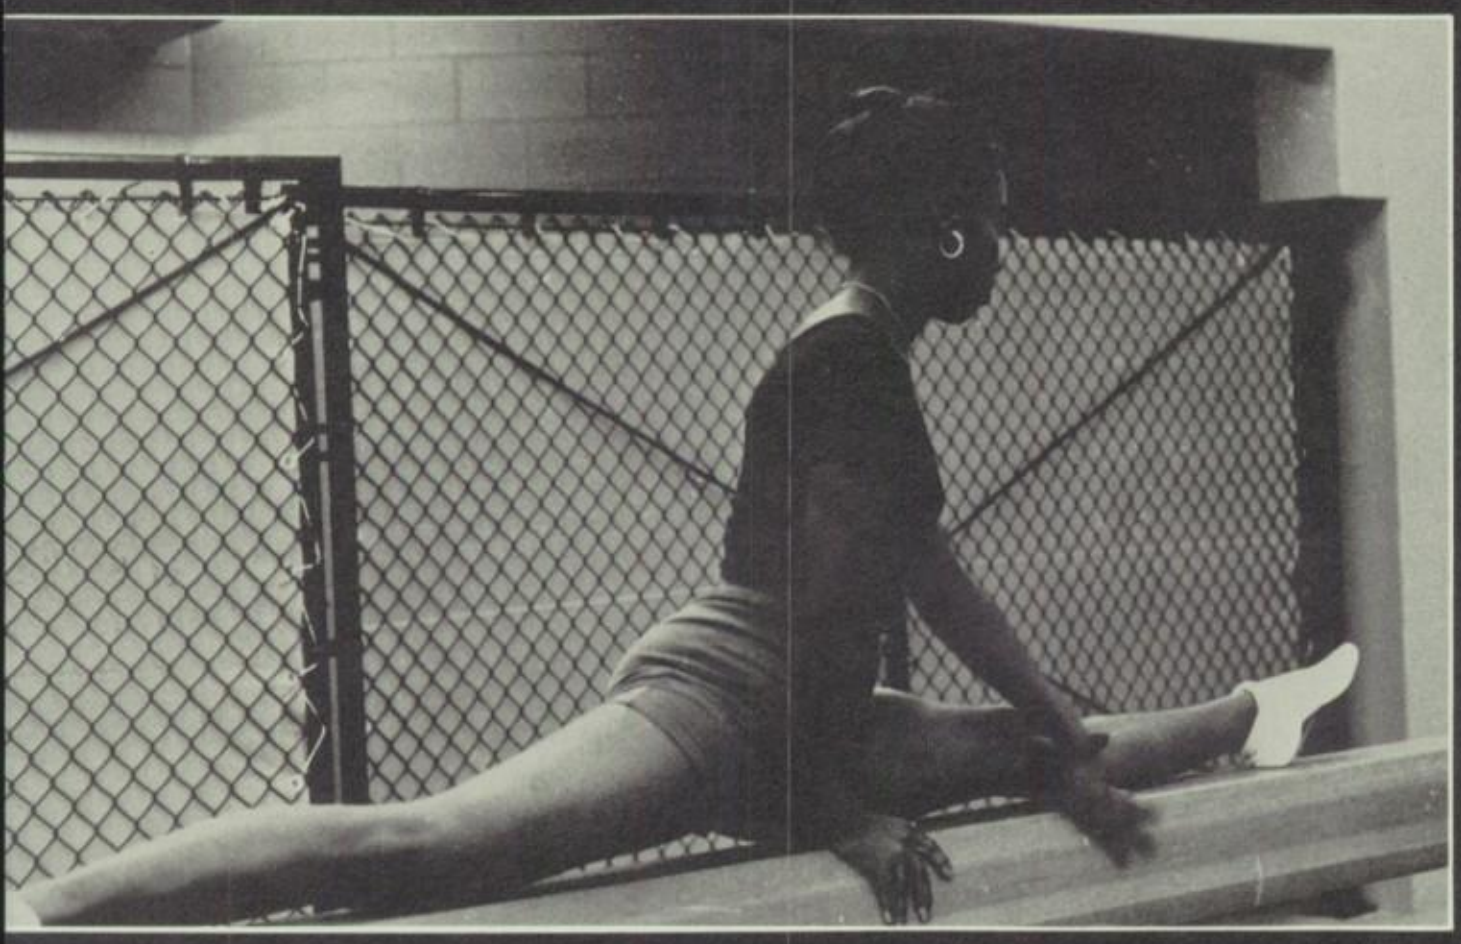


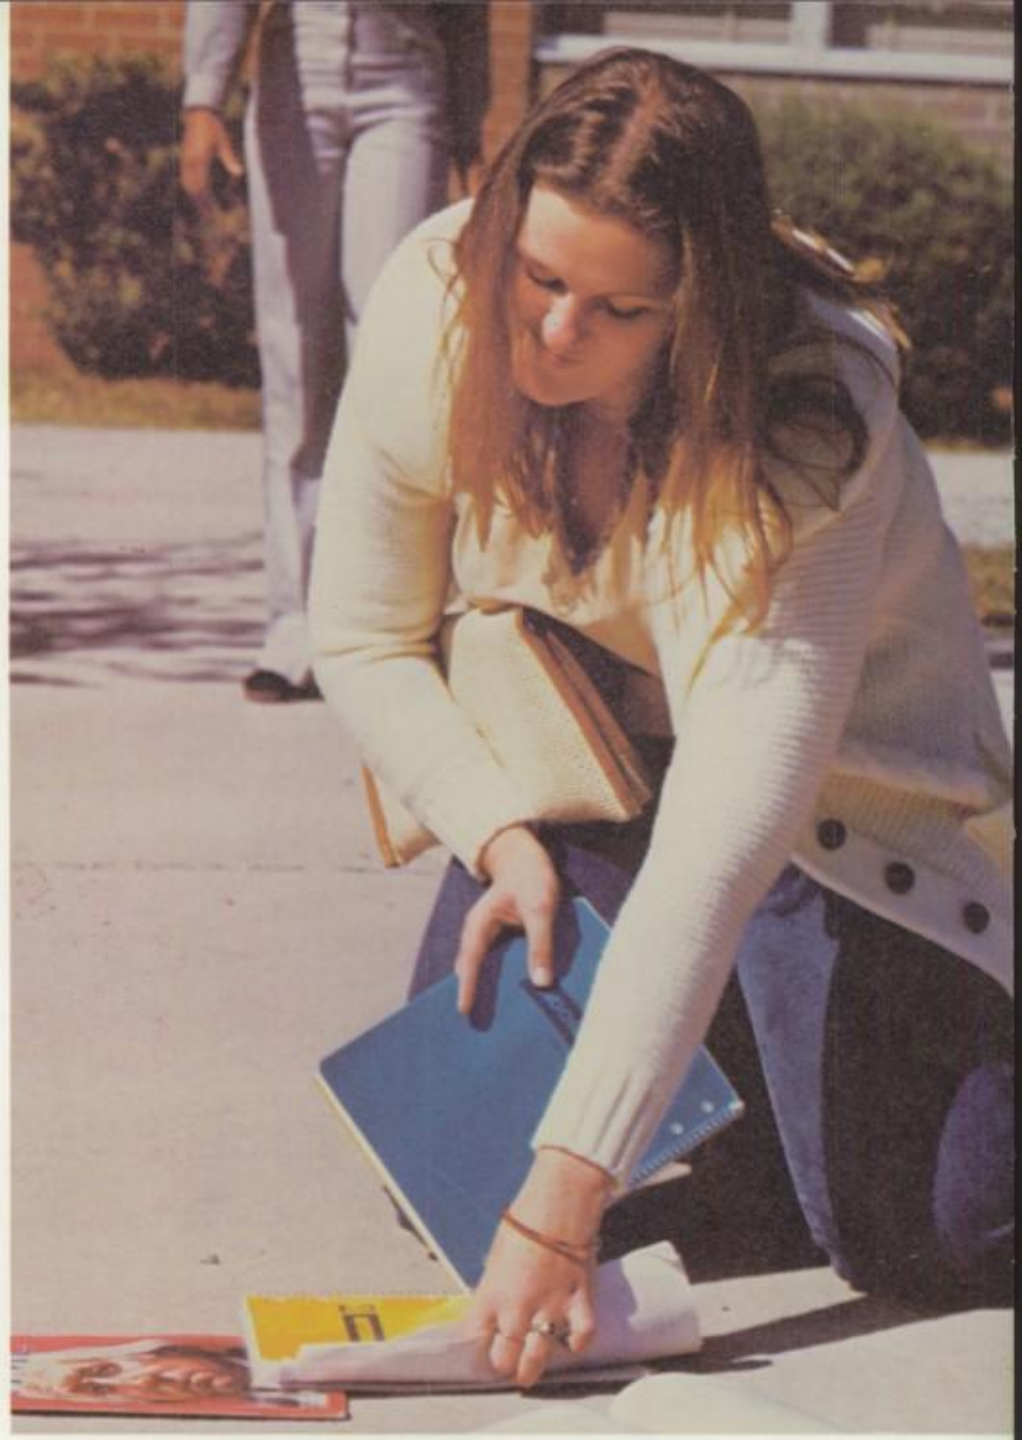
We create and hope that our creations will be good, that they will be accepted, for our creative expressions are parts of us, too.

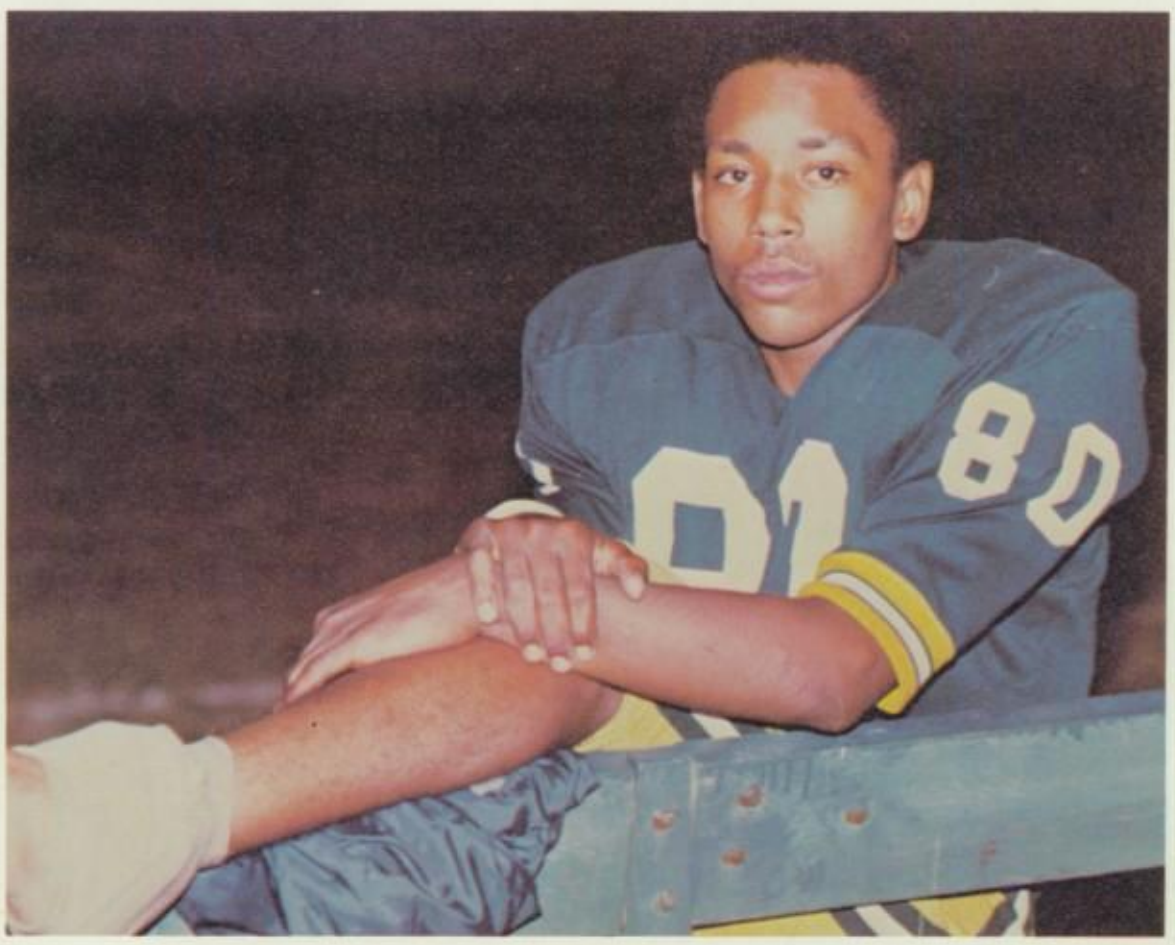
During the course of our hectic daily routine we sometimes stop to marvel at the creations of nature, but then we move on, attempting our own.





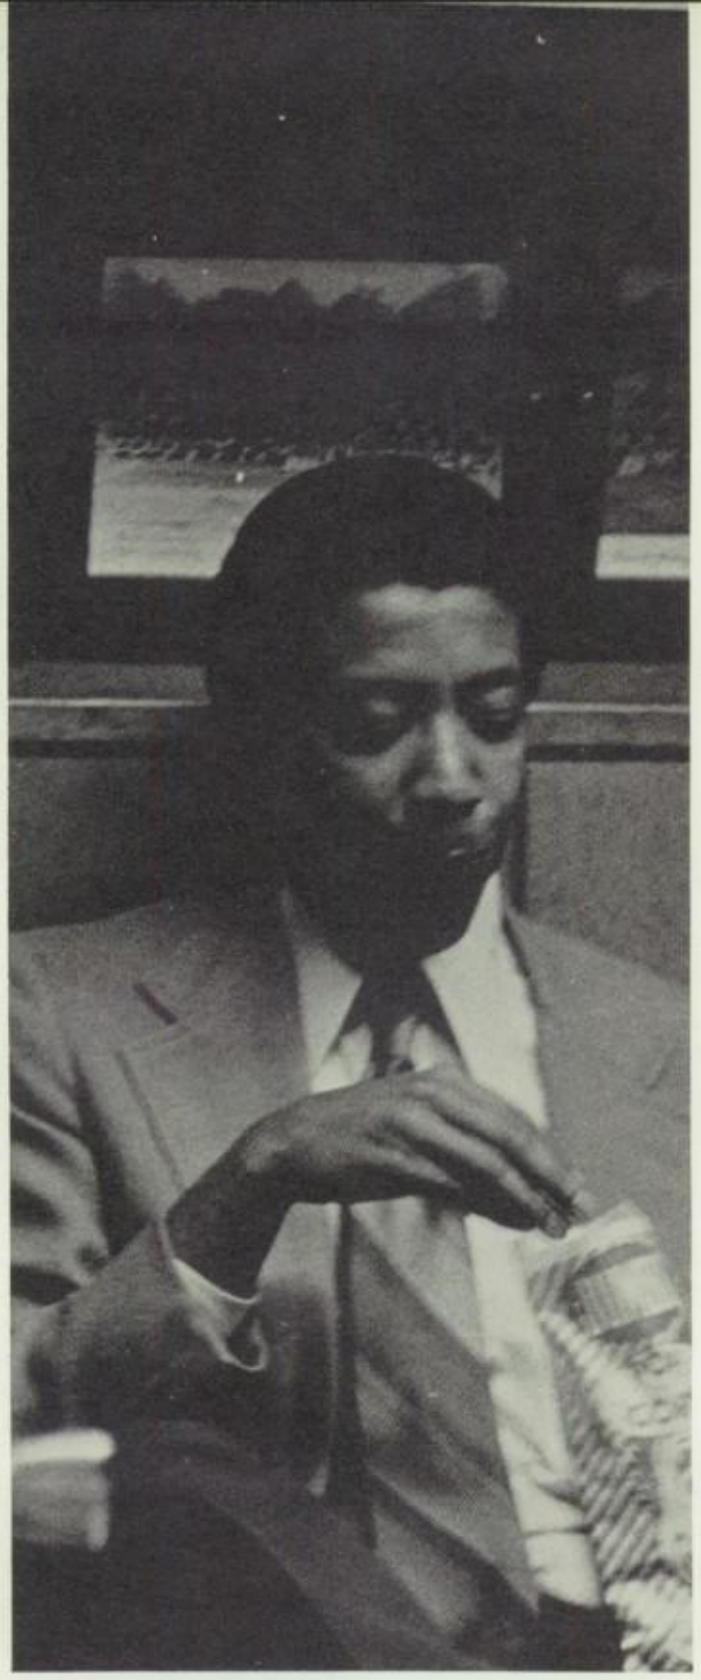


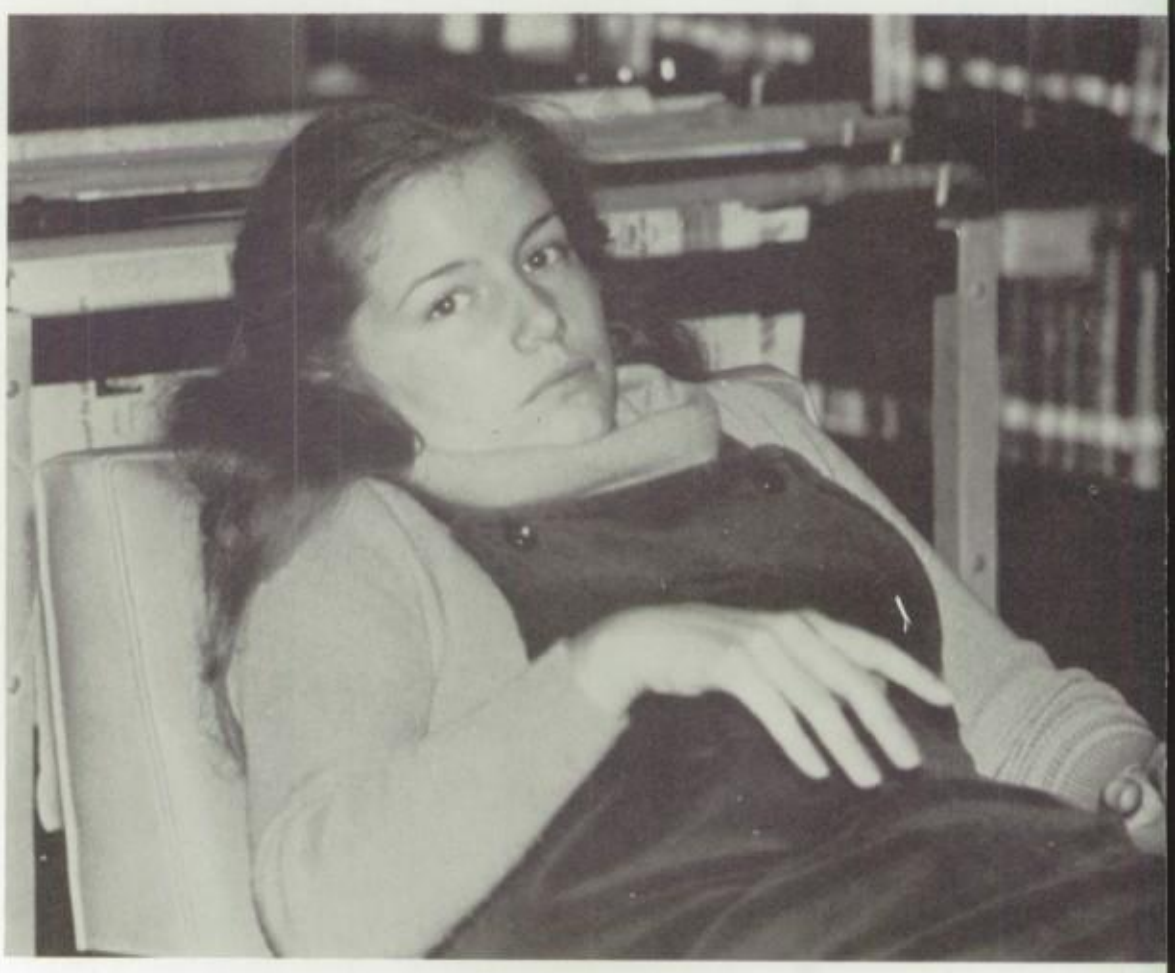


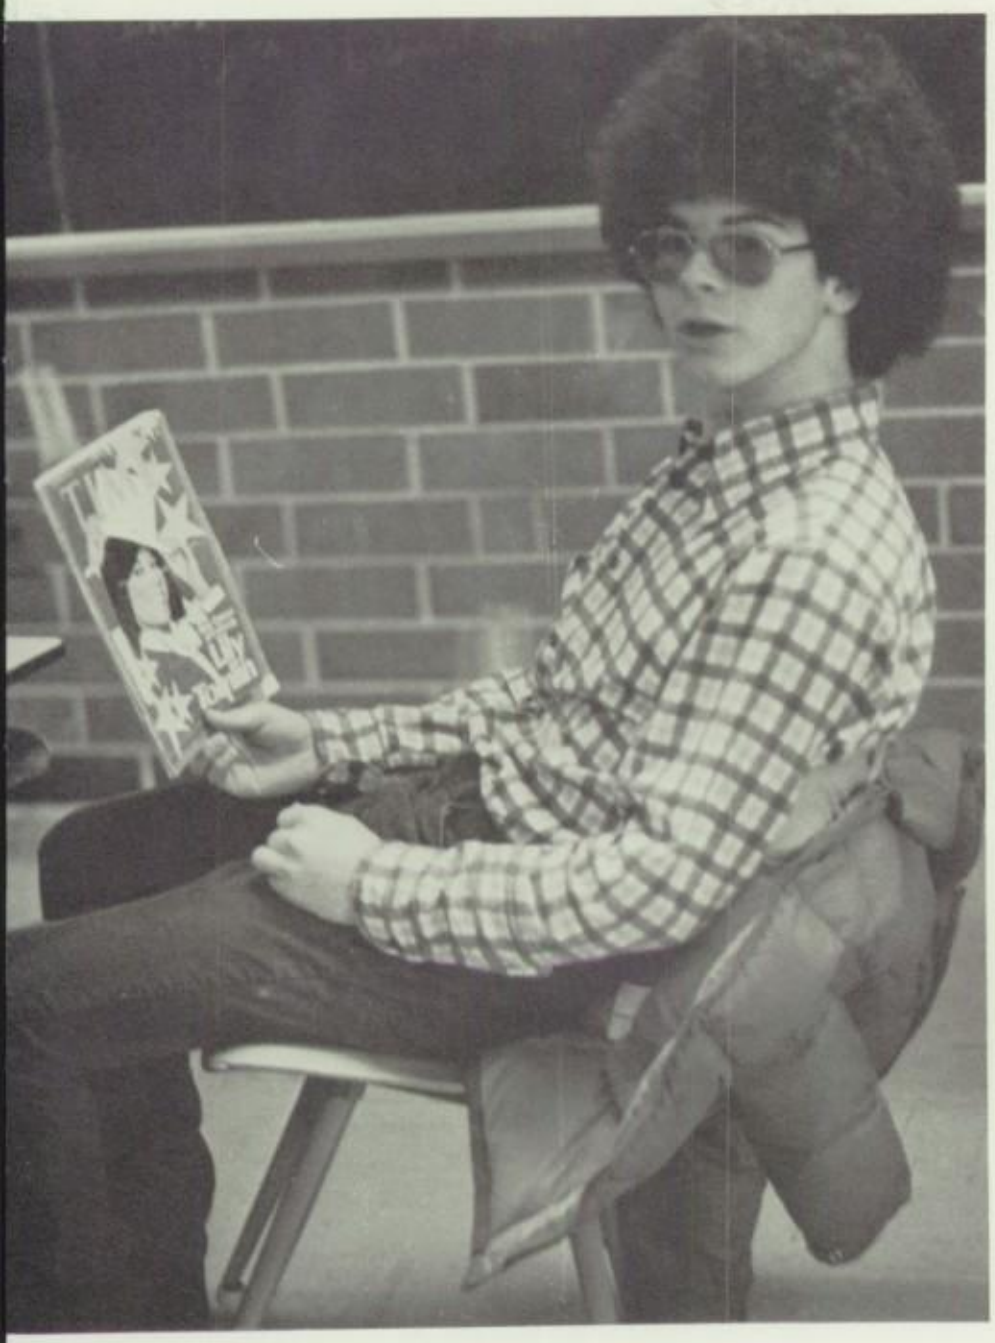


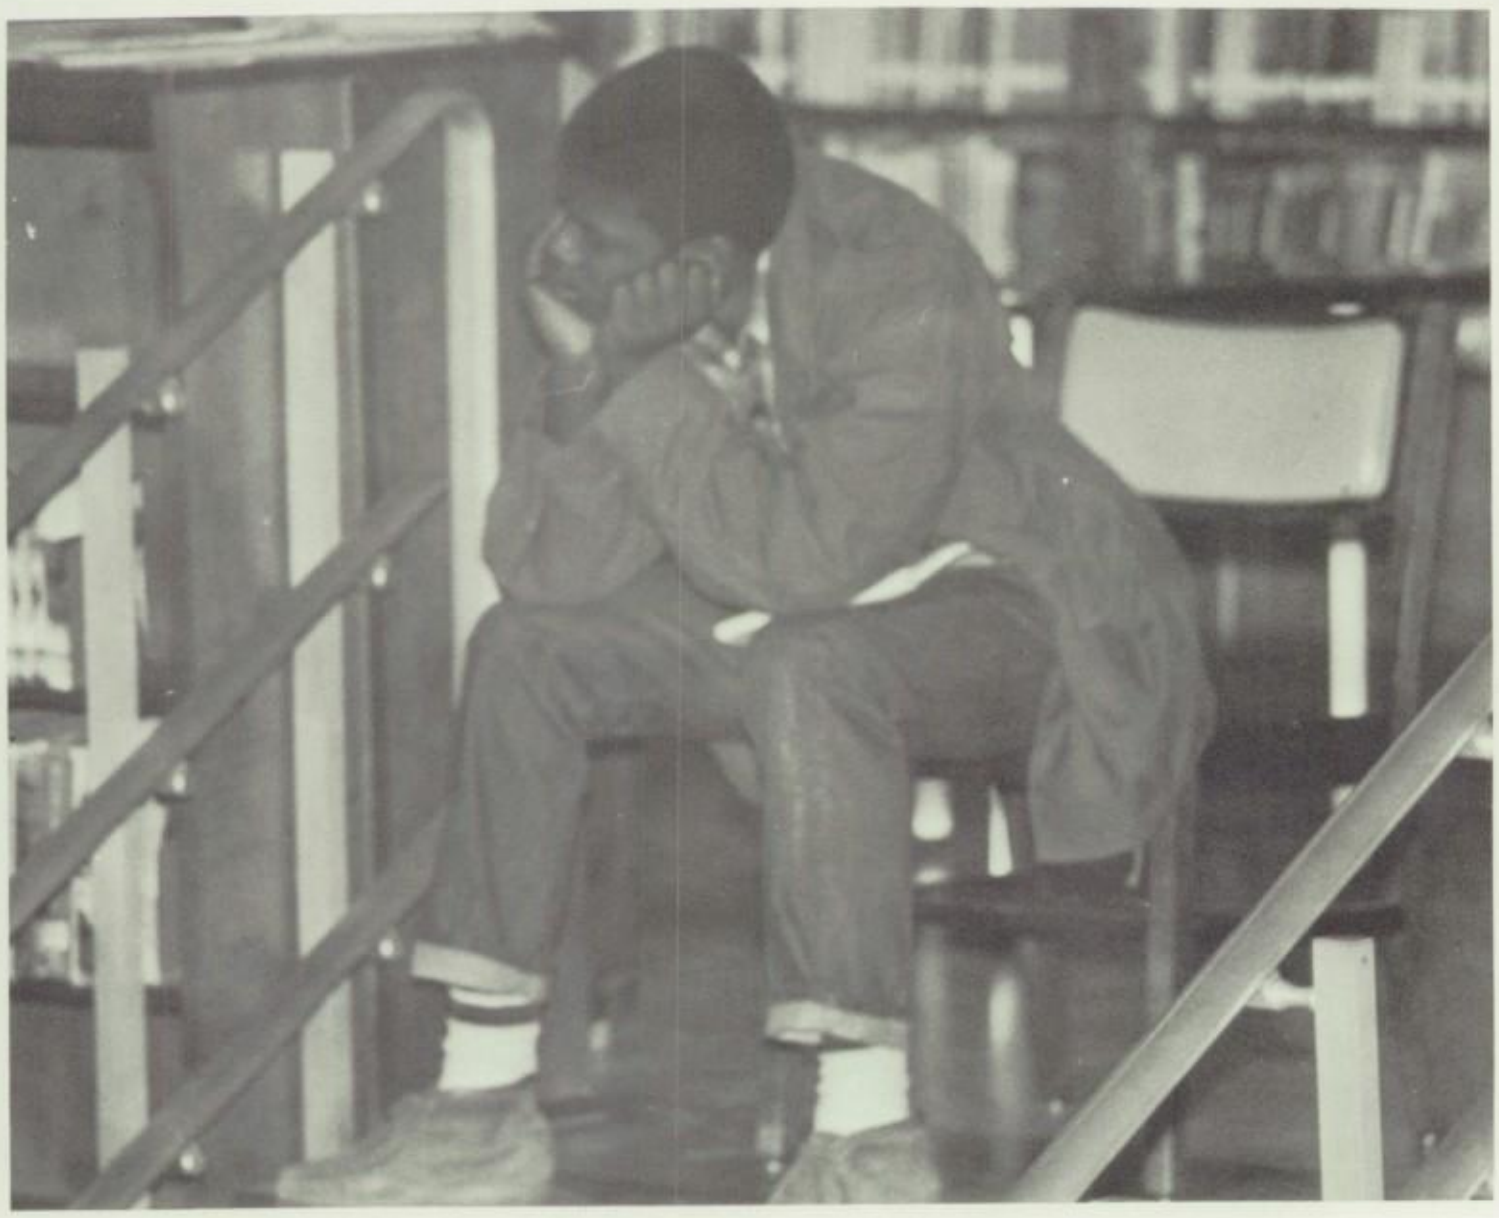
In the midst of all of life, the variety amazes us. How do we respond? We laugh, we cry, we build, we tear down. Our moods change. Our gestures are myriad.

These are the expressions of our high-school. Our interests, personalities, likes, dislikes, backgrounds, and responses are all bits of the collage that is our student body. Through out the year, these bits and pieces we learn about each other in a casual way crystallize to form bonds between us that will be remembered long after graduation.









ACHIEVEMENTS

To know the world of science and to experience it,
through failure and success
causes hungry minds to flourish.
To touch upon theories
and the fathers of those theories, give understanding and appreciation of life.
But to be the student producing the magic, it is creativity and amazement.
You try and fail and yet you still continue, not only for the reward, but for yourself. When you succeed you express Ability and Achievement.

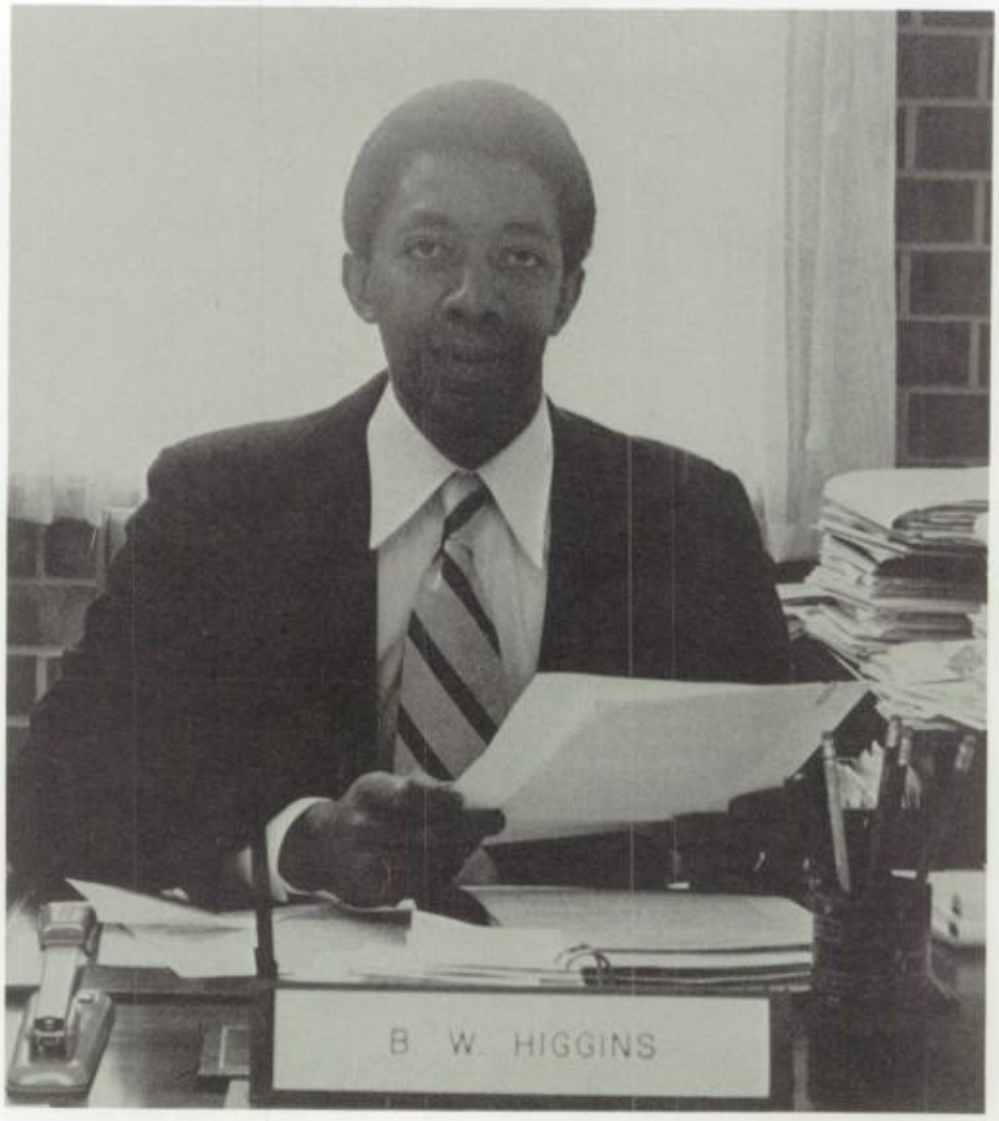
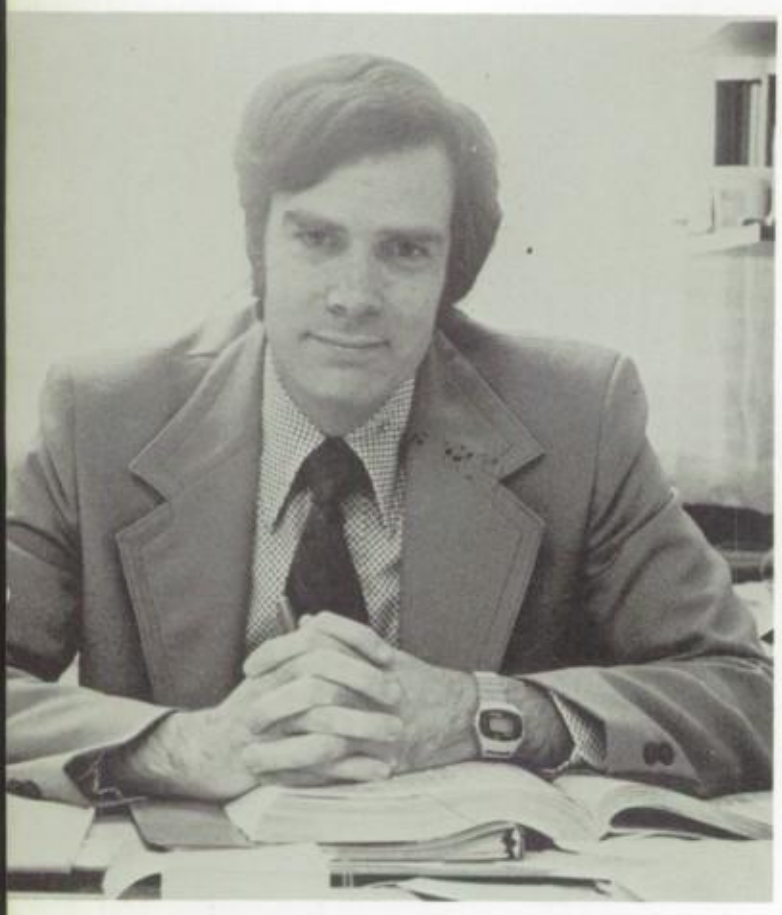
ADMINISTRATION



Bennie Higgins



David Huneycutt

This year Smith's Administration led the teachers in setting goals to be achieved. One of these goals was to increase the reading level of all students by the end of the school year. Students were tested in reading comprehension at the beginning and the end of each semester while stress was put upon improving reading skills in every class during the year. Tests given in January did show improvement in reading comprehension. Another goal emphasized by the administration was to fulfill the commitment which was made in the fall of 1976.

COUNSELORS

The joy of being a counselor as expressed by Mr. Chris Canipe is, "Finding out what happened to my old students after their graduation whether it's army, college, or marriage."
This year, the counselors sponsored Post-Secondary Opportunities at the Coliseum Exhibition Hall, giving parents and students an opportunity to talk with representatives from over 100 colleges. New to Smith's guidance department was Mr. Robert Perry.

MEDIA CENTER

Smith's media center is constantly growing. At present, the library has a total of 17,537 books. With the addition of a new video tape machine, the library is now able to aid college-bound students in selecting a school. This year, Smith welcomes Martha Davis to the library staff.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Smith's Foreign Language Department is growing rapidly. Student enrollment is up this year, and some students are studying more than one language. This year foreign language students participated in many activities. The German classes visited Old Salem to observe the culture of their early German-American ancestors. The Flamenco Ballet Company came and performed for the Spanish classes.
Trips to Europe included Ms. Cober's annual trip to Italy. A tour of Spain and Italy is also planned for the summer.

ENGLISH

This year, Smith's English Department welcomed four new teachers: Kathrine Blackburn, Kathi Highfill, Melinda Davis, and Ann Smith.

During the fall, drama students presented "Baz Draft", a collection of humorous plays, readings, and mimes. The creative writing class produced "Echoes," a literary magazine with samples of Smith students' thoughts and feelings.

SCIENCE

The Science Department here at Smith is able to offer something to each student depending upon his interests. This year activities of the Science Department included a trip to KURY, a marine biology center in Wilmington, by the AP Biology class.
Bert Clayton, a senior at Smith, was selected as the only science student from Greensboro to tour Bell Laboratories in Marstown, New Jersey. Bert toured the laboratories on January 12 and 13 accompanied by Mrs. Helen Stone.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The variety of courses and activities offered by the Social Studies department allows each student to choose the activities that he finds most interesting.
One of the programs offered at Smith through this department is the seminar in local government. This program, one of two in the nation, allows students to work in down-town Greensboro in governmental offices. Students learn the process of Government while receiving high school credit. This year at Christmas the World Religions class visited Chinqua Penn, the oriental designed plantation just outside Reidsville.
Students interested in our Federal Government were pleased this year at having a chance to watch it first hand. The program was Close-up and it involved a week-long learning experience in Washington, D.C.

MATHEMATICS

The Math Department has begun to teach courses which benefit the future homeowner. Courses such as "A Little Bit Of Everything," "Stretching Your Dollar," and "Taxation" help students to understand the ideas of balancing the home budget. Elementary Analysis gives math students a chance to prepare for higher levels of mathematics in college. This year we welcomed Linda Lael to the math department, and said good-bye to Linda Bennetts who is moving to London.

HOME ECONOMICS/HEALTH OCCUPATIONS

The Home Economics Department teaches students to be creative in the home, but also to be efficient in the working world. The Child Care classes went to Day Care Centers one day a week this year and worked with children. Ceramics has become a very popular course.

Health Occupations classes give students a chance to see the different occupations that are offered in the health careers. Second year students worked in offices of businesses involved with health. These businesses included dentists', doctors', and veterinarians' offices.

FINE ARTS

The Fine Arts Department offers courses in music and art. In the Art Department this year students participated in the Scholastic Art Awards Competition. Students Kathy Putman and Debbie Tomlin painted a mural at a local restaurant, and art works by Smith students were on display at the Green Hill Academy.
Marching Band participated in numerous parades during the year and a trip to Washington D.C. was planned. The Chorus has performed throughout the local area, and in March students participated in the Choral Festival.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Smith High School has a lot to be proud of when it comes to its Physical Education Department. Not many schools are able to boast of two gymnasiums, an olympic size swimming pool, and eight tennis courts. With these facilities, students have a large selection of physical education classes, ranging from tennis to gymnastics to swimming.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION

Cooperative Education allows students to be part time students and part time workers. The participants receive in-class instruction in dealing with the working world and then apply these concepts to their jobs during the second half of the school day. This year the second period Distributive Education class operated the School Box, a ministore in which students could purchase pens, pencils, paper and other school supplies.

Mary Thompson

Davetta Bristow

REMEDIAL EDUCATION

The Remedial Department offers classes with an emphasis on the development of individual skills. This year the remedial classes enjoyed a field trip which took them to the Greensboro Daily News, the Health Department, and the Planetarium in the Natural Science Center. An addition to the Remedial Department staff this year is Mr. Ivory Tate. He is replacing Mr. Sidney Woody who was promoted to a supervisory position in the Greensboro School System.

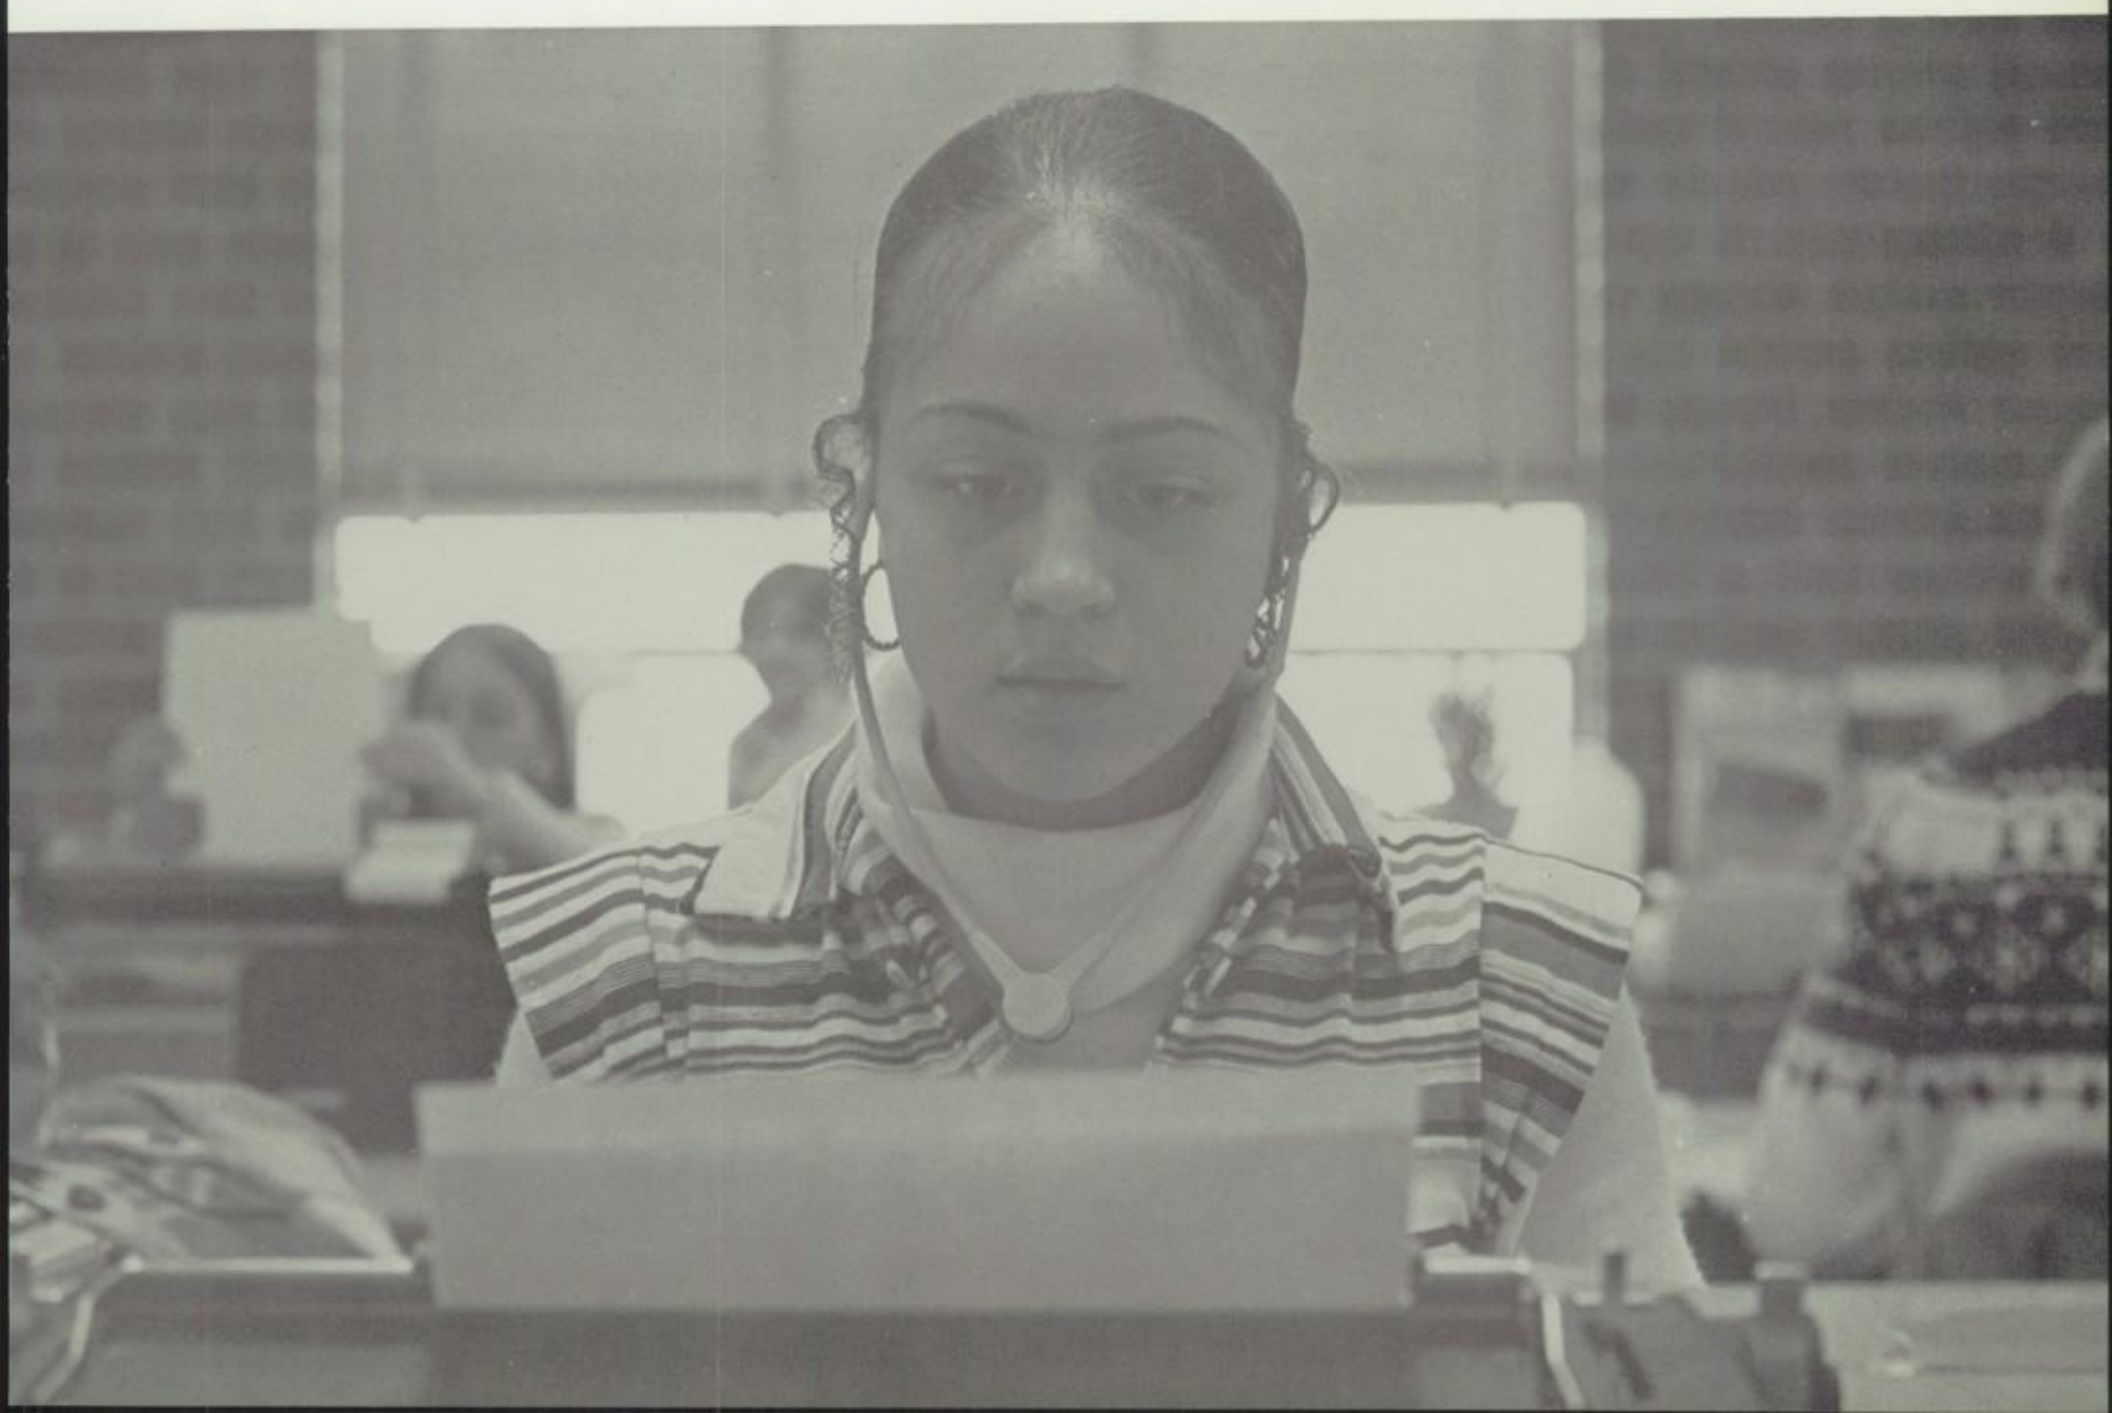
BUSINESS

The Business Education Department feels that students with training in typing should be able to get a good job. The training is invaluable also to students who are planning to attend college. Other courses within the department include Business Law, which gives students an understanding of experiences they might have with everyday law, and secretarial courses such as shorthand and business machines.

Gayle Nelson

Jamesina Watkins



AFJ-ROTC

The Aerospace Education Program consists of various teams which benefit students in the field of leadership. The students feel that Col. Smith and Chief O'Hara make the program what it is. In the R.O.T.C. there are no strings attached that require one to join the service after graduating. The students have a motto in the program which is "Training for successful manhood and womanhood in sound character."

Drivers' Education

The Drivers' Education classes teach students under the age of 18 the basic skills of driving. This year a program was offered to licensed drivers to help them brush up on their driving skills.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

This year Smith will be saying good-bye to much of its Industrial Arts Department. Beginning next year, Auto Mechanics, Graphics, and Cabinet Making will have been moved to the new career center.
This year all the Greensboro Schools' paper needs were produced by students in the Graphics classes at Smith. Student interest in the department is very high.

ACTIONS

Reach up, reach up for stars; reach for goals and strength. You are the hero, you can have it all if only you can reach the top.

Your training is sometimes intolerable, and still you take it with "a grain of salt." You experience hard times, but you do not give up without a fight. Although perhaps the wins have been few, or even if there is a perfect score, the action continues on.

Twenty-two students lined the field in this year's Homecoming. Twelve seniors waited anxiously for their dream, to be crowned Homecoming Queen or Miss Ben L. Smith. Only two could fulfill their dream. Benita Bell was crowned Homecoming Queen by Joan McCoy while Harriet Graham was crowned Miss Ben L. Smith by Debbie Fulp.

Later over 100 students crowded into the cafeteria to enjoy the beat of "Zebra" at the Homecoming Dance.

THRILL OF A VICTORY — AGONY OF DEFEAT

This year's varsity football team was young and inexperienced. Although the Junkyard Dogs' defense kept many opponents under 20 points, a sputtering offense couldn't come up with the winning T.D. After a disappointing 14-13 loss to High Point Central, when a last second conversion attempt failed, the Golden Eagles won their first and only victory over West Forsyth, winning 14-13. The defense was anchored by All Conference end Eugene Robinson and junior Buzzy Gilbert. The offense was led by quarterback Mike Pickard, tight end Darrell McLellan, and running back Doug Roberts.

A run around the end.

The Baby Eagles, coached by Mike Porter survived a very tough, seesaw season. They routed Cummings 33-0 then received a stunning blow from Thomasville dropping 24-6. They beat Dudley, Northeast, and Grimsley while losing to Central, Reidsville, Ragsdale, and Page. The team was led by Barry Kellum and Steve Harrelson while the line was anchored by Tommy Gilbert.

The 1977-78 Smith Varsity Basketball team finished its season on Feb. 17 after completing a grueling 21-game schedule stretching back into late November.

The thirteen-man squad under the direction of head coach Helburn Meadows went through a tough rebuilding year with remarkable success, considering the team had only three seniors.

Arnold Flack, Mike Davis, Charles Comer, and Darrell McLellan spearheaded the Eagle attack, giving teams with superior talent and depth many rough games, although the win column doesn't actually reflect the hustle and desire shown by the players.

This year's junior varsity basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Mike Porter, dribbled to a disappointing 5 and 12 record for the 1977-78 season. The 13 member team had a 48 point scoring average per game.

One player summed up the season by saying that he felt it was "fairly successful" and most of the JV players were acquiring valuable playing experience in hopes of playing on the varsity squad next season.

Under the directions of head coach Steve Burroughs and assistant Barry Goldman, Smith's wrestling team captured the 1978 conference championship. The grapplers went into the conference play with a 4-1 mark while having gone 10-4 against all competition. The team was anchored by seniors Larry Beck, Greg Estes, Jeff Chavis, Billy Burke, and Lorenzo James. Beck, wrestling at 132, had a 15-1 record on the season, while Greg Estes, weighing in at 155, went 14-2. The highlights of the season were Smith's winning its first conference tournament and placing second in the highly competitive Parkland invitational tournament. The wrestling team carried on the tradition begun by former coach Eddie Quinlivan, and were excellent representatives of Smith. Coach Burroughs was named Coach Of The Year in the District Conference.

The Booters finished this year with a 7-6-1 record, experiencing their first winning season. They had a difficult season, playing several of the top rated teams in the state, and the team had its ups and downs. They began with a three-game winning streak; then, after a mid-season slump opened up to give 100%. Sporting a 6-6-1 record near the season's end the determined Eagles pulled an upset over Page, the number one ranked team in the state, stunning the Pirates, 2-1. They moved into the playoffs as underdogs but came up with a surprising victory over Grimsley, 4-1. Their dreams were unfulfilled, however, as they settled for runner up in the city championship after a muddy battle with Page.

This year's tennis team entered the season with high expectations, anchored by Scott Davis and Eric Ravenell. Backing them up were three letter men, Pat Herbert, Tim Harris, and Mike Minor. The team was also backed by the strong play of sophomore Spence Yonce. The squad was led successfully through 18 games by Coach Pait.

SPRING TRAINING

The 1977-78 Baseball Squad finished its spring training looking for a fairly successful season. The painful work of calisthenics, tiresome laps, and routine drills ended, they entered active competition. The squad is coached by Steve Burroughs and Jackie Joyce. The consistency of returning lettermen Doug Thomas and Mike Pickard should play a key role in the outcome of the season.

This year's edition of the Smith swimming team had one of the best seasons ever. Coach Thompson's men's squad sported a winning record, led by team members Keith Pierce, Jeff Brantley, and John Sears. The women swimmers led by Kim Jones and Muffin Wynn, kept pace with some of the best teams in the state, while David Pharis led the divers to their second consecutive successful season.

Student attendance at home meets went up drastically, indicating the growing popularity of swimming at Smith.

Many Smith students express their spirit by clapping and yelling for the Eagle athletes. But eleven girls do even more. They are our Golden Eagle cheerleaders, and they are the essence of Smith spirit. Through winter's cold their pep never failed, whether cheering on the sidelines at a football game or entertaining us with clever dance routines during basketball season. They are always caring and enthusiastic, supporting the team no matter what.

Smith's volleyball team finished its season with many accomplishments. Even though they fell short of the state championship they had nothing to be ashamed of. They experienced their most successful season, finishing with an 8-2 record. The team was led by two All Conference players, Sonya Daye and Lisa Muratori. They look for an even better season next year. The absence of senior Sonya Daye will hurt, but Lisa Muratori and another outstanding defensive player, Lisa Harrelson, will be returning. They hope to make this year's dream of becoming state champions reality next year.

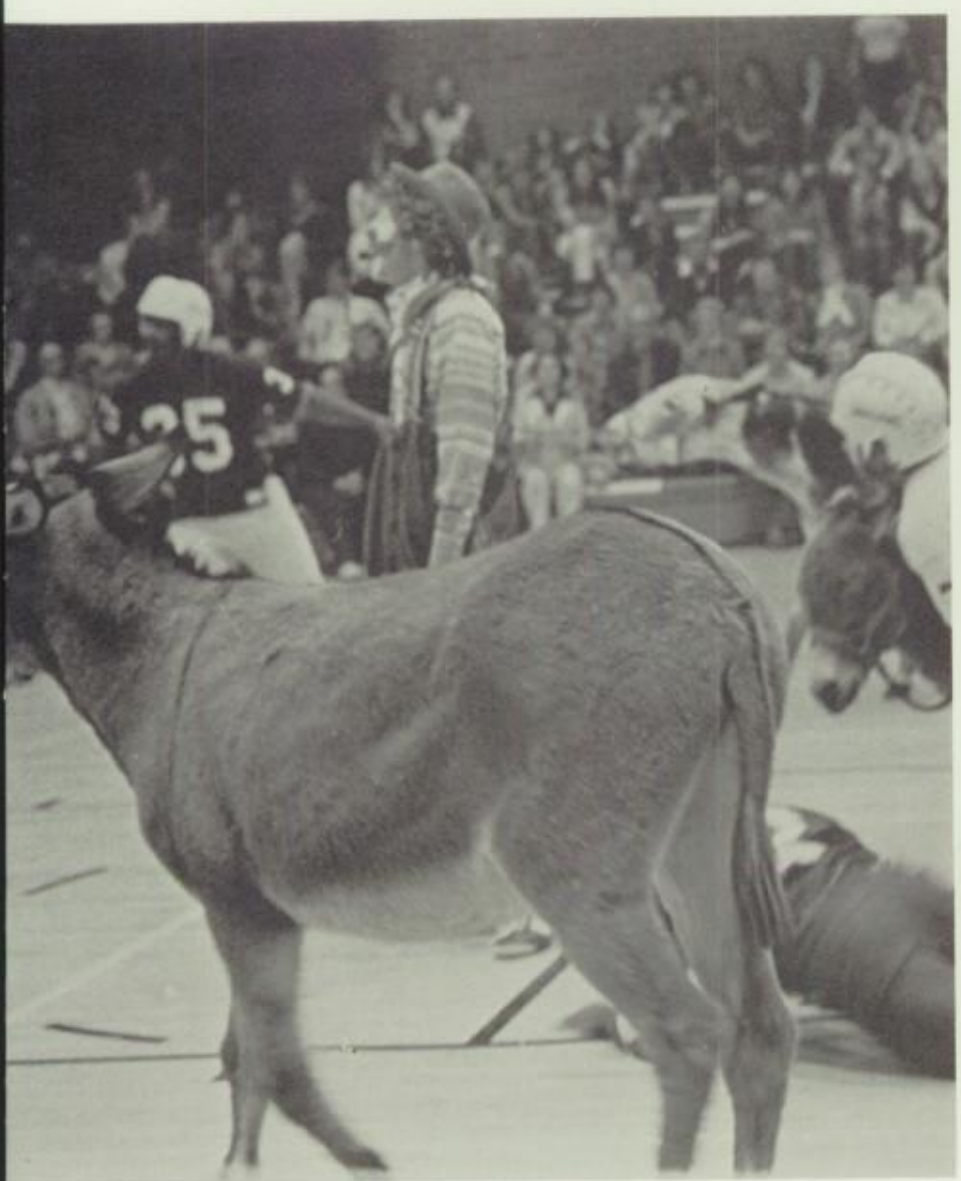
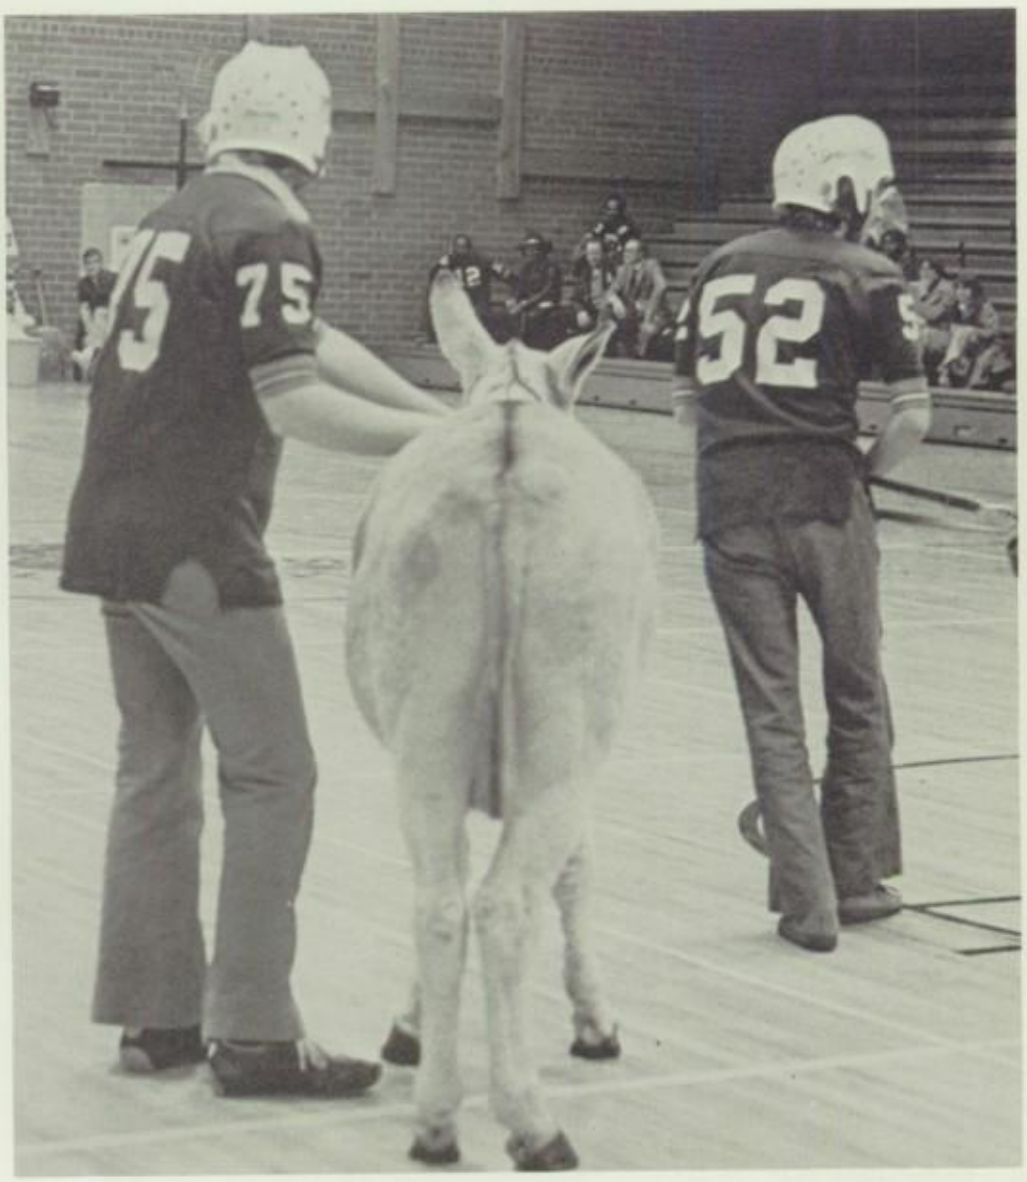
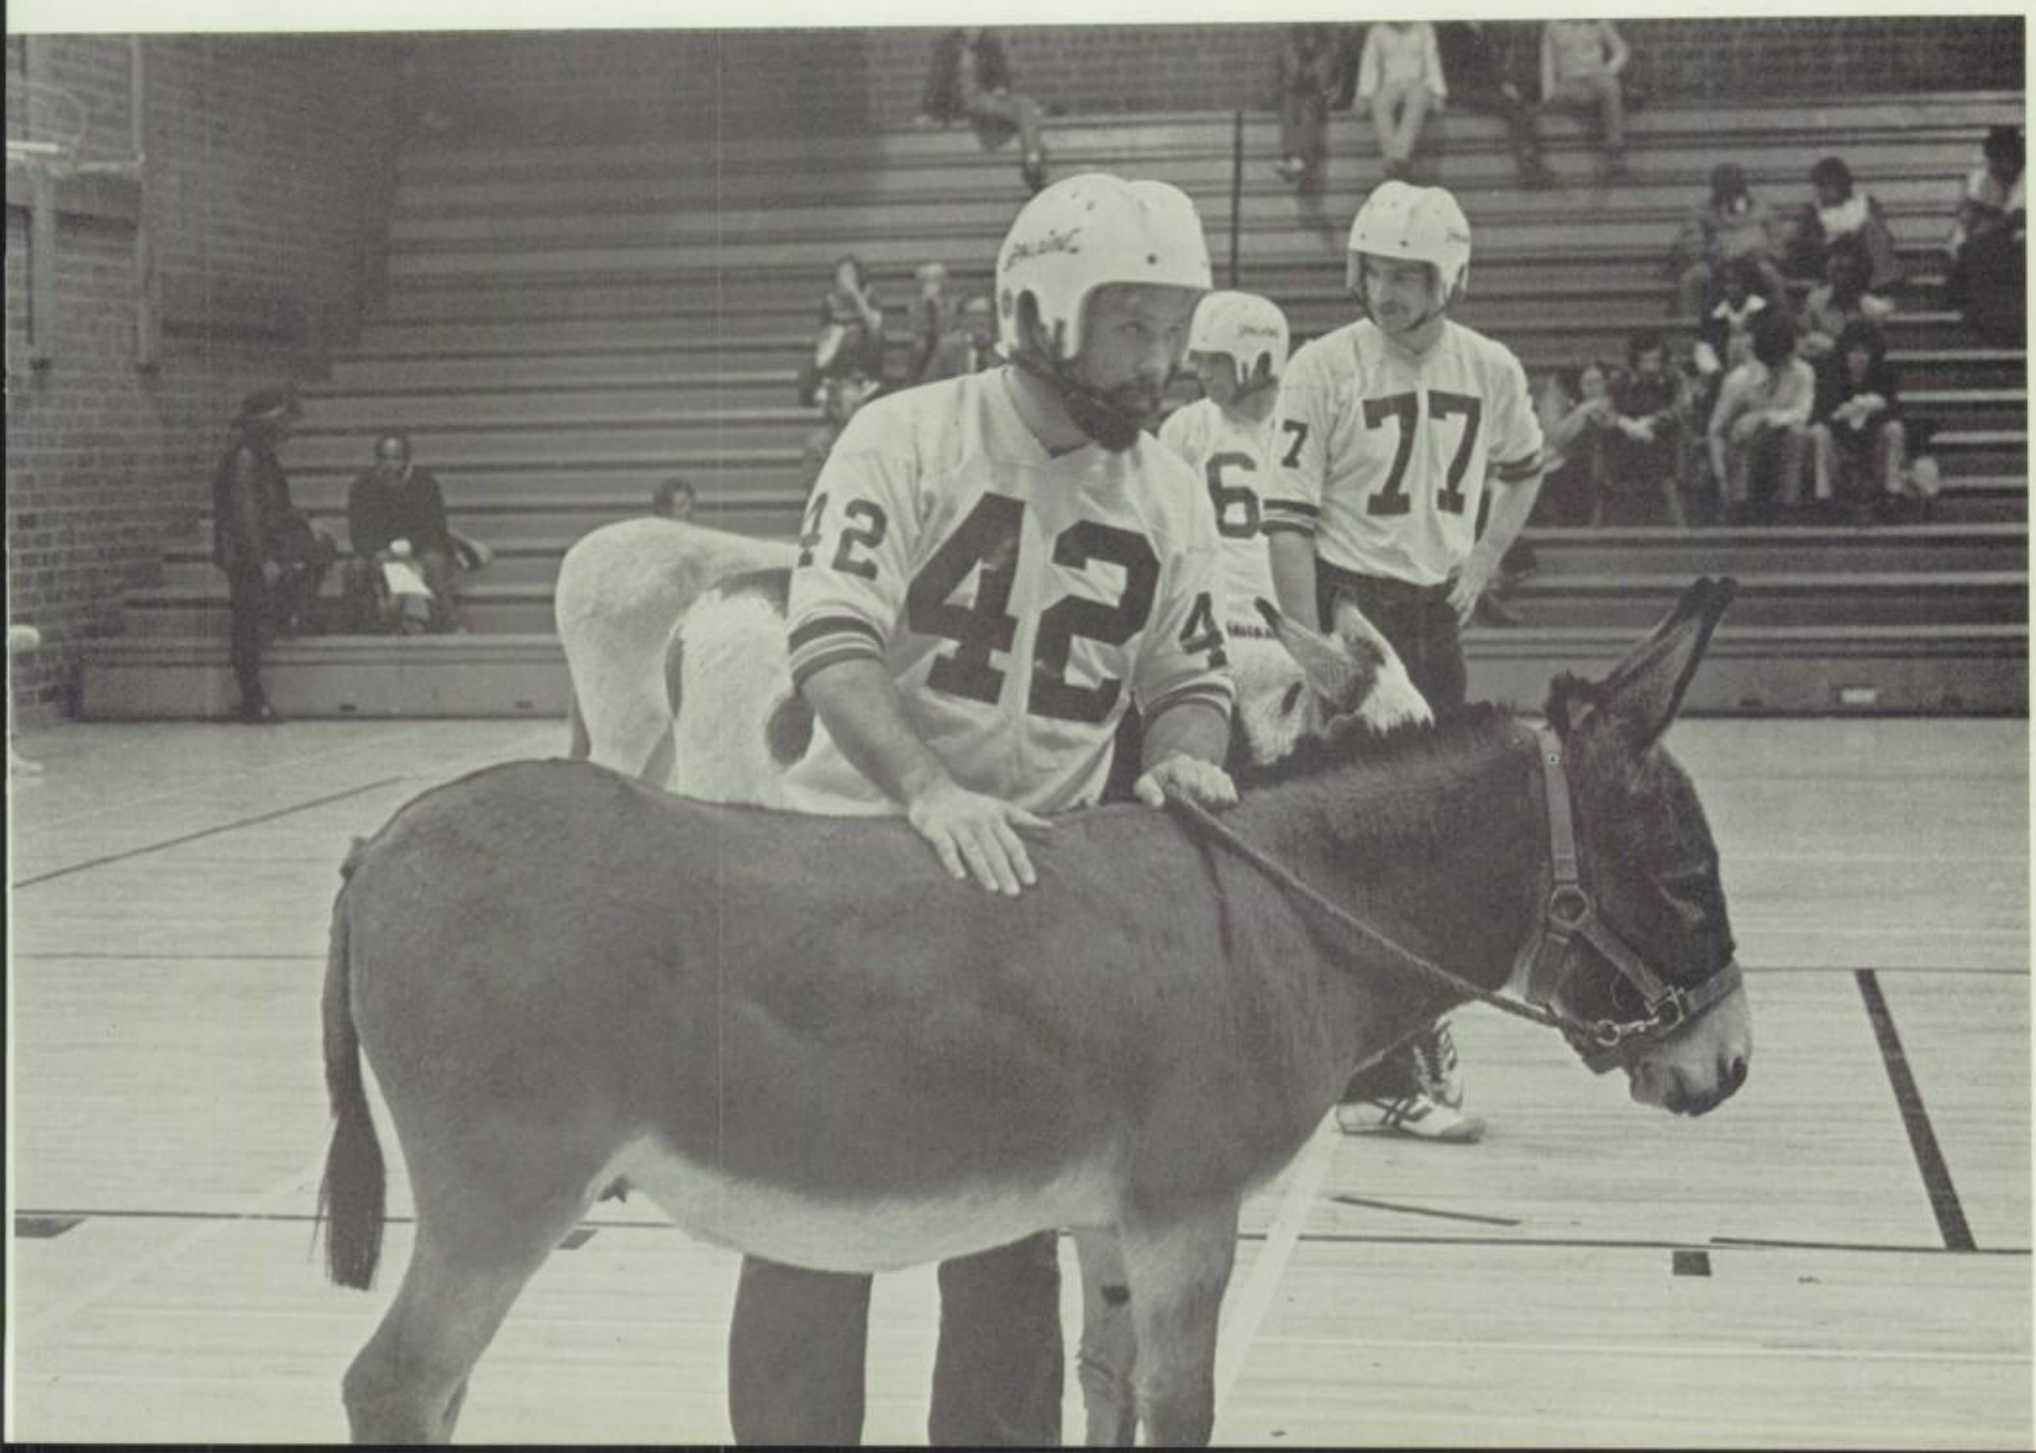
SPIRIT DAYS

DONKEY BASKETBALL GAME







CONCERTS . . .

Smith students enjoy a diversion from the daily school routine in a wide variety of concerts. This year, some of the more popular concerts ranged from the hard rock of KISS to the country music of Dolly Parton.

1978 was a year of decision for this year's seniors; and each decision is an expression of a unique personality. Every choice made after graduation is a reflection of individual goals and aspirations. It is through one of the greatest decisions — the choice between college or immediate career — that the dreams of each graduating senior begin to become a reality.

ACCENTS

No matter what origin, no matter what language is spoken, the existence of equal people remains. You may study the language and customs, but you know they are not your own.
And by the study of these differences, you understand the reasons and whys of each country.
And to open your mind, you must realize that the beauty is not only in the Accents or the minds of the people, but in the thoughts that are your own.

CHOIR

This has been one of the most active years the choir has experienced recently. Choir member Barbara Bowles was Miss Christmas Seal for Smith. The group was very proud that they raised the most money for Barbara. The group presented concerts in the fall and spring for area schools. The choir also received a rating of superior at the Choral Festival in Burlington, in March. During May, the group made a trip to Myrtle Beach.

GIRLS' CHORUS

The Girls' Chorus is the newest addition to the music department at Smith. Members of this group have performed on WFMY-TV as well as at Four Seasons Mall. They presented a portion of the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts.

ENSEMBLE

Smith's Chamber Ensemble is the most select music group here. Students must audition successfully with a solo and sight-singing to be a member. The Chamber Ensemble presented many concerts in area elementary and junior high schools at Christmas. In February, this group sang for a quality rating in Mount Airy and received a superior. Throughout the spring, the Chamber Ensemble performed in several junior high schools hoping to spark ninth graders' interest in choral music at Smith.

ROTC

Our Squadron motto is "Training towards successful manhood and womanhood and sound character." All of our projects are done in an effort to live up to that goal. The Color Guard, Drill Team, and Rifle Team have performed in numerous parades both in the city and out of town and also at athletic events.

Other activities of the Squadron included acting as escorts for the Spirit of St. Louis Commemorative visit, a Military Ball at the American Legion Hall, a trip to Pope Air Force Base near Fayetteville, N.C. The senior flight donated a tree in the Chris Evergreen Forest project sponsored by the Greensboro Youth Council.

Six of our cadets attended the NCO Leadership School at Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base. Michael Edwards received the Commandants Award, the highest honor given at the school. We, the cadets of the NC 33 — Eagle Squadron challenge our fellow students to follow our example in striving for the development of "sound character."

LATIN CLUB

Latin Club is one of the largest clubs at Smith. This year the members have been very active. They have had numerous parties and acquaintance gatherings. They gave three, three-hundred dollar scholarships to Italy for two seniors—Suzanne Swiggett and Billy Smith—and one junior, Jennifer Bramlett. They participated in the Winston-Salem College State Language Competitions and the Junior Classical League Convention in Chapel Hill. Also, they participated in the Halloween Flea Market.

GERMAN

This year's Smith German club proved to be an exciting experience for all who were involved. The members raised money for a trip to the Old Country, Busch Gardens, by having flea markets and car washes. At Halloween the Smith and Dudley German clubs teamed up and held the Oktoberfest at Woodlead Lakes club house where music was supplied by a live band. A major activity this year of the club was to introduce Jr. High School students to the German program and to promote a better understanding of the German heritage. The German club also put up a Christmas tree in the office which they decorated with German ornaments.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Smith Student Council has been busy this year with a wide range of activities. Their projects and services included printing "Smith" on sophomore's T-shirts to get them in the spirit, purchasing a glass announcement case for the upper lobby, organizing Homecoming activities, a student directory, and a talent assembly. At Christmas they aided a needy family, collected money for the janitors, and helped with the Holiday Basketball Tournament. Also they held several special days; some of these were Bumper Sticker Day, Exchange Day, Bicycle Day, and various Spirit Days. A big event of the year was a midwinters dance.

PROMETHEANS

The Prometheans were involved in two productions this year. The first was Baz Draft, a variety of dramatic episodes directed by president, Amanda Austen. Miss Austen also represented Smith High School in a community theater production, "The Death of Jeremy Troy." The second production was the musical comedy "Spring for Sure." Set in the Appalachian mountains, this musical explores love, money and family life.

The purpose of F.S.A. is to bring to the student a better understanding of the business world through association with experienced secretaries. F.S.A. helps to stimulate interest in the secretarial profession. It also encourages students to develop a recognition of the importance of desirable work habits, attitudes, and responsibilities; and to aspire to a high level of competence through a continuing program of education after graduation from school or college.

F.S.A. members were involved in many activities this year. They participated in a Christmas program at Duke Power Company, they toured J.P. Stevens, and attended the annual F.S.A. convention which was held in Raleigh this year. Three seniors competed for a scholarship given by the National Secretaries Association.

ANCHOR CLUB

Anchor Club is more than just a service club. Friendly girls who are willing to work are always welcome. There is a lot of work involved, but fun and excitement seep in too. This year, members worked at the Halloween Flea Market. They sent a member to the district meeting in Valley Forge, had a bake sale, sold doughnuts, made fruit baskets for Thanksgiving, worked at the Pilot Bazarre and put on "Frosty the Snowman" for the children at Kendall Center.

Row 1: Mrs. Yates, Advisor: Janice Jefferies, Treasurer; Suzanne Swiggett, President; Lynn Lynch, Secretary of Arms. Row 2: Tracy Fields, Delana Hinton, Regina Grant, Brenda Ray. Charlotte Hall, Lori Hall. Row 3: Lisa Crouch, Tanya Davis, Renee McMullen, Sheryl Swiggett.

H.E.R.O. means Home Economics Related Occupations. Membership in this club is required of each person in a Co-operative Home Economics class, and the members meet during the class period since the students work at varying times. This year H.E.R.O. prepared a Thanksgiving dinner of Turkey and all the trimmings for a family in need, and planned a special project for the aging in nursing homes and a party for children in a day care center. The club strives to promote leadership in the schools, home, church and community.

conclusion

Walk away, don't look back — these days will never be forgotten,
but they are in the past now.
What you have succeeded in doing,
let it not be blundered away,
but used in its entirety.
Though your heart is heavy and emotion
hard to put away,
find the strength, and continue on.
You need no one to hold your hand any longer, you're the world's next superiors, so go and walk tall.
Watch your steps, make sure they are secure, don't let your feet take you places that your mind knows nothing of.
Be careful in your dealings; although you may be hurt, you will be prepared for victory.
So go along now with your chin up, for now instead of an Apprentice; you are now the Teacher.

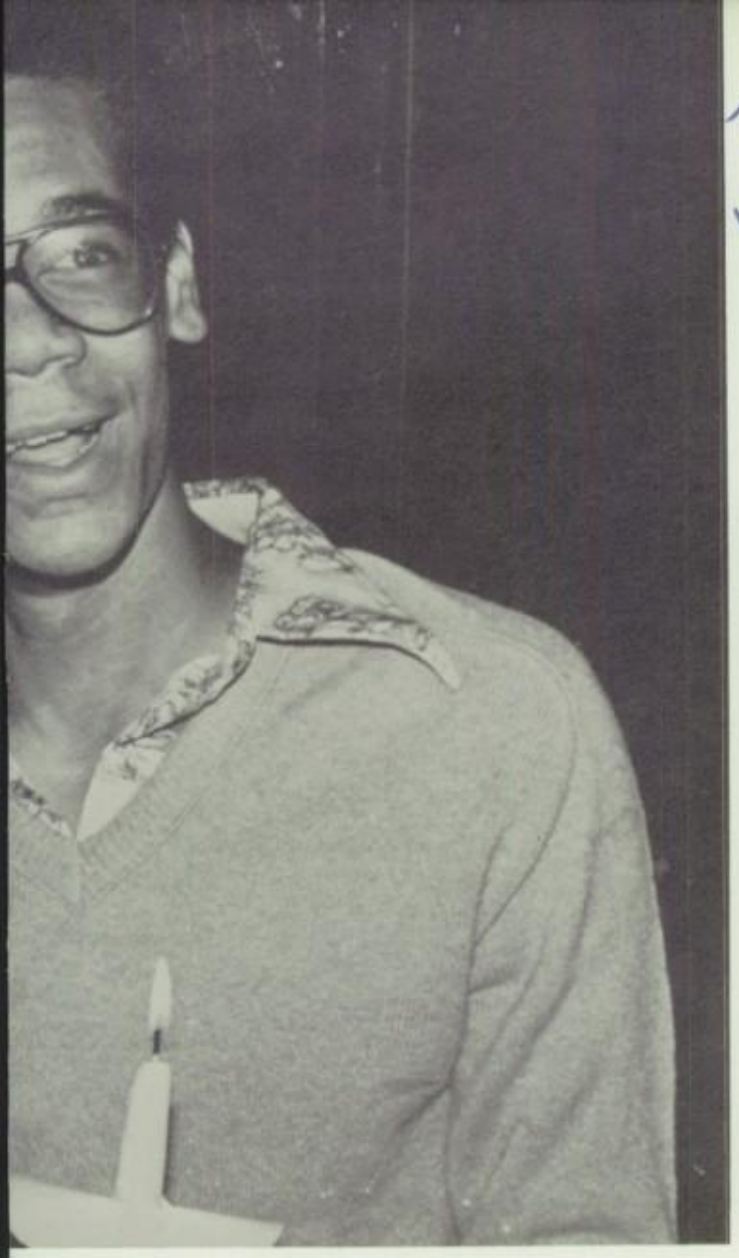
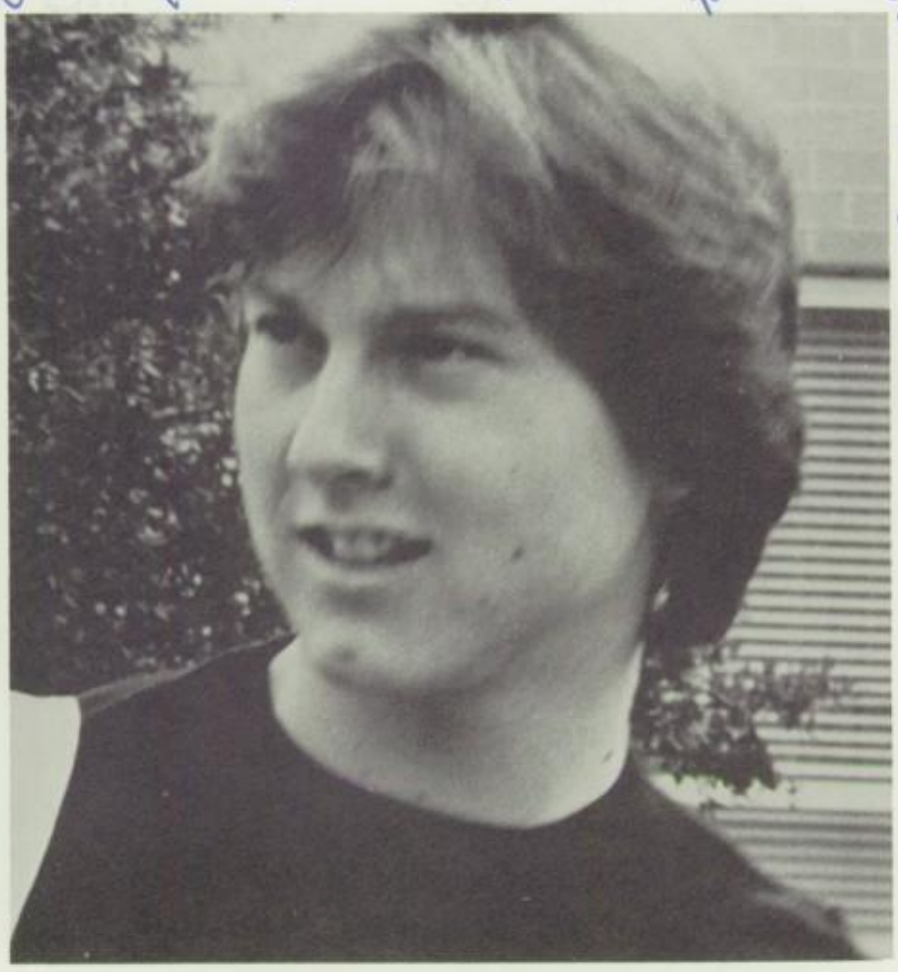
ROPIC
OUSES

For some of us, our high school expressions have come to an end. The many facets that were our school this year will never be quite the same without those who are leaving. Those left, and those to come will express themselves in similar ways and in different ways from the forms presented this year. Each year is unique, unlike any preceding or any to come.

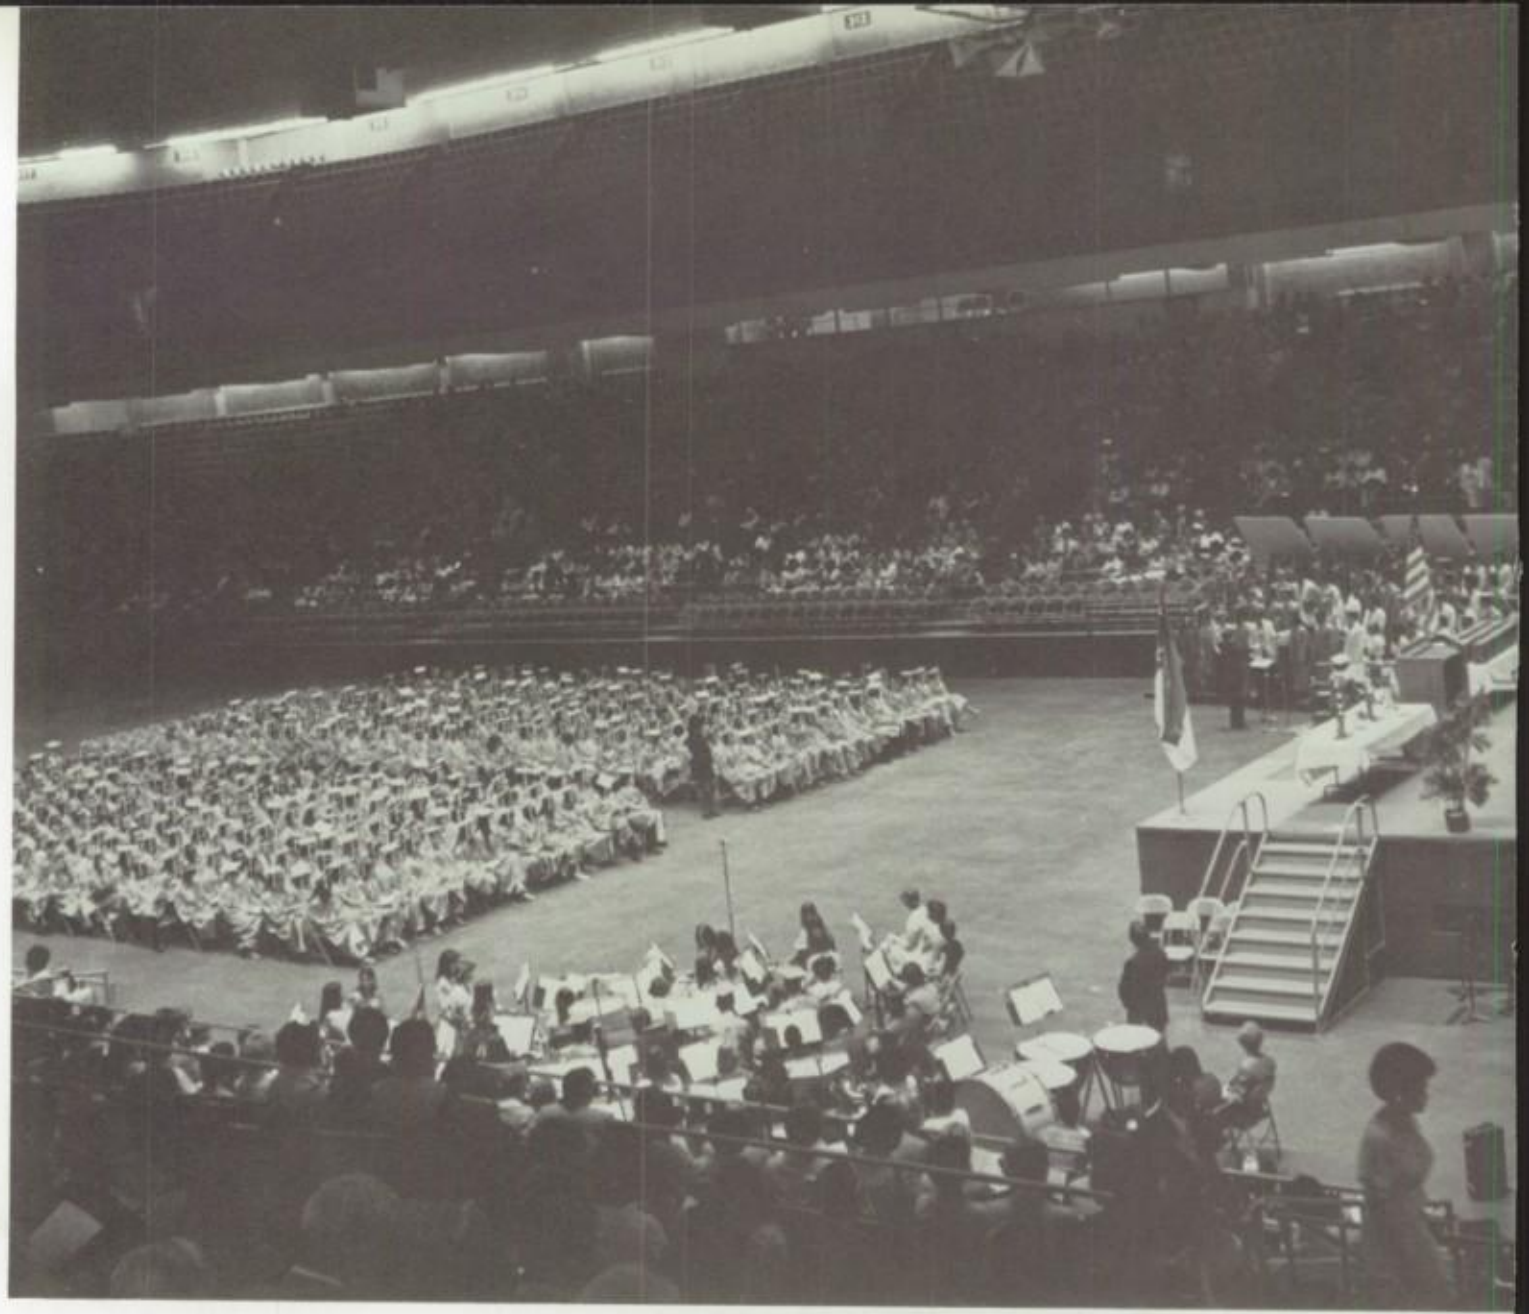


I know you want (or should I say wanton) this! luscious bod!
And you know I want yours.
Nevertheless, I hope your future destiny is full of archetypal patterns.
Learn to express your tone more vividly and remember "Greasy grass doth keel the pot."
Love ya
Bert



At times, we have expressed ourselves by surpassing common standards. We broke records, performed superbly, and marched triumphantly. Some of us have brought delight to others on our campus as well as in the community.

Our days have been filled with much laughter and fun. The companionship between the student and teacher as well as student and student made the atmosphere of our school a little freer for varied forms of expression.



The events, dances, games, plays, presentations, recitals, concerts, parties, lectures, speeches, even the weather that comprised this year will not be repeated. The year is over, but our memories of the expressions we experienced will remain.

Roz,
It was really great getting to know you this year. You have changed me from a sweet and innocent boy to a real hell-raiser. I appreciate the luck to the great Come back and visit us. Be sure to your cunt around everyone.

Change. Much "pointed" one. see all of spread to

"WHIZ" KID
(he's taking a leak)

This year has been a myriad of expressions. As difficult as the task has been, the yearbook staff has tried to capture as many different expressions as possible in order to make this book as close a representation of Smith as possible. We have grasped at what we feel is the essense of the people that attend our school. We hope you are pleased with the results. It takes long hours of hard work by many people in order to make a yearbook a success. I feel this has been quite a successful year for our staff. I would like to thank everyone who made this book possible. Thanks to Laurie Holt for pushing the staff members to sell more advertisements than in previous years. Betsy Miller kept us up to date on our financial situation, as well as helping out the sports people. Much love and big ole thank you's are due to our two faithful down-trodden photographers, Martha Grant and Ellen Styers for the many hours they put into making the yearbook pictures. Without them, we couldn't have done anything. Next I'd like to pat the backs of those unfortunates who had the joy of putting together the class sections. Tonya Mode, Kelly Stallings, Yogi Sanders, Patti Troxler and Janet Petty all deserve medals for being able to organize those sections without losing their sight. Kim Allen incorporated some new concepts into the "Gestures" section, and I appreciate all of her hard work. Jill Craddock and Bobby Pruitt put up with several headaches stemming from the "Activities" section. It's not easy getting masses to organize at a single person's command. Harry Bleattler who did "Achievements" and who almost owed me $4000 did a great job on his section, too. Earl Stevens and Dan Grondy labored hard for the sports section. Their work is appreciated. Ever-helpful Diane Veto worked with the Christmas ad campaign as well as lending a hand with writing copy. And who can forget the infamous escapades of Theresa Johnson and Karen Hughes, our trusty assistants. They were both very helpful to members of the staff, and spent a lot of time in the field selling ads. Thanks also, of course, are due to Ms. Burton and Mr. Helmstetler. This is Mr. Helmstetler's last year at Smith, and we appreciate all the work he has put into the production of the yearbook these past two years.

Now, we are leaving. Those who remain with Ms. Burton will have quite a job on their hands. Good luck.

Queen Ros,

What a queen!

Ros, you're really a wild and sweet person. Thanks for all the memories in Spanish and at Murphey. Knowin that next year I'll miss our visits to Dunkin-Donuts. Take care of yourself next year at State and don't go hog-wild over all the good-looking guys 'cause knowin there's a lot at State. Be sweet and keep in touch.

Love ya,
Lori

Roxy,

What in the world am I gonna do without you baby ??
Who love you
do without your coco oil ?? I just can't live with black beauty. Ohh I shake it ought to kill off all the kids at Murphy after school play. What do you think ?? A touch so - I'll bring orax. Really Roxy I'm going to miss you - to win some more we are going to Dunkin-Donuts. I remember at Dunkin-Donuts - see ya later
& May God bless you.

Love,

Susan Hooker

¡We Made It!
However, this is only the beginning. In the two years that I've come to know you, I've concluded that you have many expectations and the ability to make them come about. Ros, I know you're gonna make it and if not, it's only because you didn't want to. It's been a pleasure knowing you and I grant you much happiness and success in the future. However, there are some great times that you should remember. Remember the "tips" (las personas) in Spanish IV and V, the plays at Salem College in which we took first place, our mornings at Dunkin Donuts. ¡Good Luck In Whatever You Do! I won't say so long for I'm sure we'll be in touch in Durham. Have a great and enjoyable summer!

¡Up te deseo mucha suerte en el futuro!

Your life has just began. There's a long journey ahead.

You may often look back for the presence of mom, for the food prepared you when hungry, and most of all, there's a desire for mom to be near when a problem troubles your mind. However, you must realize, there's something more to life that one can only reach by stepping beyond. Beyond home is the key to life.

Pauletta.

Remembering the olden times when we were so young?
we still are, but
the dreams of us have changed.

We are mature and new,
now.
Our thoughts are away from the run and jump of elementary halls.

Do you, can you
remember running,
screaming down the corridors of school,
tagging and being chased in turn.... but now
We must refrain. because we are adults.

Roz, our limit is the sky, we must reach for it. And since we are who we are, we will.

Lon Williams, friend.

Ros,
You sweet, really terrific girl.
I hope that you've enjoyed knowing me as much as I've enjoyed knowing you. You're a really cool person and I know you'll have a great time next year at N.C.C.V. Come back and visit the seniors of next year.

Luv,
Karen

Timpani (est), & Tonia Player,
It being fun having you in my classes & I'm glad I had a chance to meet you. You have made Band a lot more fun, & know you will have a good future because you are such a nice girl & can roll on the ~~drug~~ timpani. Have fun & I hope to see you again some day.

Rosalind,
I hate to think that you won't be around BKS next year. You're a real friend. The best of luck to you in the future
Tina John.

Roslyn,
You old crazy think person. People like you are the wildest thing. Seriously, I think you're a very nice and sweet. You helped me when I was driving and myself crazy. I long to miss you and hope you find that nutty sense of humor
I hope you have success in college and I'll see you this summer. Give my love.
P.S. I think you're a fairly chick keep your to yourself.

Oh, Rosa-linda,

What will we do next year without the pleasure of Miss Lee's (particularly some of our "fellow students") and the limitless excitement provided by (your) "concert" band. (?) I've really enjoyed having you around this year, even when you silently criticized my driving. We will have to get together with the rest for our graduation orgy. Take care of yourself in the future and call me the minute you get rich. (smile) I know I'll see you around. Have fun.

Write me!

Rosalind,

I guess I'll stick with tradition in this case and write one of those very boring and utterly common memoirs saying how you have been a good friend at lunch and how I wish you much luck in the future. Now that I have gone with tradition, Let me say that all these preceding statements apply. Keep in touch!

Love,
Robby Dukes

Rosalind,

I have known you for a very long time and you haven't changed a bit. I hope this doesn't ruin the summer. Stay the way you because that's the way I'll remember you

Roz,

How's my favorite _____ on the band trip? I was great. We really had a nice time after curfew. Wow. Roz, I didn't know you were like that. It's really nice though. Have a great summer and good luck at Central!

Roz baby,
We had alot of fun in band, but I never understood why we couldn't stand each other. I guess we could do good ole Mrs. Kruger's class. I'll just never forget all of those good times we had. Roz, this is your last year. I just know you're going to make cheerleader and I'll be so proud of you. Have a good time at camp and have a great summer. Maybe we'll have a class together next year. Well, miss you. Take care. Kathy Daly.
